And Their Prophecies Unfulfilled.

Give the Lie to Their Theories.

Nothing Terrible Has Happened and Britannia Still Rules Seas.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—Peace in the industry may or may not result from the decision of the miners, but they have been assured a way to meet the coal owner's demand for settling all points in dispute. Certainly the situation is not as bad as the miners' leaders have said. The strike is proving a source of much enlightenment. The utterances of the press at the time of the strike have been like a sham battle. The miners' leaders have been no more than a fortnight, yet the strike remains intact and revolution, war, and bloodshed have not been averted.

that the country confronted either social reform or a social catastrophe. Apparently these phrases were not only kept but they were spread to all branches of labor and that workers of every class would hail the movement with "profound delight." The contrary has occurred. The strike has not spread.

Moreover trade unionists have been thrown out of work when they wanted work. Their strike funds are depleted and they are full of suppressed resentment against the miners' leaders for not accepting in February the proposition they accepted yesterday.

In other words, the trades wish to bear the hardships of strike and spend their strike money only when they have a grievance to right, or a benefit to win.

UNION LEADERS AS PROPHETS. The miners' leaders have shown themselves also to be poor prophets. They talked about the luxury-flaunting rich and said they would give the enemies of labor a taste of "slow murder." Probably many persons—mainly underfed children—have lost their lives through the strike, but the rich have lived in all essentials just as they lived before.

"Slow murder" has attacked the homes of the people and the homes of the miners, who themselves are using the weapons of a raw March and an empty larder. Even where food could be obtained it could not be cooked. Men and women have been seen eating raw potatoes, turnips and roots out of the holes. To build fires for the young, the sick and the aged, rail fences in the north have been carried off and outhouses have been torn down. Men have been digging in the hills for surface coal, costing much more than the coal in the mines.

CO-OPERATION IS REAL. The miners find that where their hungry children cry in the streets, the rich, the well-to-do and the poor co-operate to resist the "slow murder" of thousands are pawning every-

San Diego Man Weds Second Wife Before the First Is Buried.

(A. P. NIGHT NEWS REPORT.)
SAN DIEGO, March 14.—Bert Mason of La Mesa was married to Miss Helena Lux of San Francisco Tuesday night. The ceremony took place within twenty hours after the death of Mason's wife and twelve hours before the funeral had occurred. A Justice of the Peace officiated.

The funeral of Mason's first wife was held yesterday afternoon and with his bride he came to San Diego today to make this city his home. It is said that the marriage was to carry out a promise made by Mason as his wife was dying. There were three small children and for their welfare, it is said, the dying woman asked Mason to marry Miss Lux.

MEXICAN REBELS SEIZE JIMENEZ.

SALAZAR'S ARMY TAKES TOWN WITHOUT FIRING SHOT.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHIHUAHUA (Mex.) March 14.—Jimenez, the first large objective point of the rebel army on its southward march, was occupied unopposed today. The Federal detachment in the city retreated last night, and the vanguard of the insurgents force walked in without firing a shot.

The Federal outposts evidently have been instructed not to offer battle, but to retire upon the base at Torreon upon the approach of the enemy.

In a proclamation issued today Gen. Orozco gives notice that the revolution, if successful, will not recognize as valid any contracts entered into by the Madero administration after today. This includes concessions which may be granted foreigners.

Orozco's efforts now are directed towards recruiting men and securing arms. More men than arms are available. The rebels claim deputy district attorney in a murder trial growing out of union labor plotting in Torreon.

The terrible ordeal of Christian missionaries in the interior of Chihuahua has been detailed yesterday in San Francisco by passengers arriving from the city.

"Taft will carry California by 10,000," said Jimenez yesterday, on her return from Los Angeles.

San Francisco yesterday an uncorroborated testimony of a Chinese merchant, the late Quinlan, will take with them a letter from assistant district attorney who prosecuted them, is to be used in application for parole.

GENERAL EASTERN. Mountain outlaws captured force at Coconino at Billville, Va., yesterday, and announced the capture of a Chinese merchant, the late Quinlan, will take with them a letter from assistant district attorney who prosecuted them, is to be used in application for parole.

WASHINGTON. Leaders of the Taft and Roosevelt campaigns were manifesting uneasiness at the national capital yesterday.

FEDERAL CONTROL. Water-power sites the subject of force in the Missouri River valley, yesterday, and announced the capture of a Chinese merchant, the late Quinlan, will take with them a letter from assistant district attorney who prosecuted them, is to be used in application for parole.

FINANCIAL. Business was dull and prices irregular for the greater part of yesterday, and the market was dull in the afternoon.

WHEAT. Prices on the Chicago Board of Trade were steady, with a slight advance in the March delivery in Liverpool.

WILL GET A REWARD. (BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
HOUSTON (Tex.) March 14.—David A. Trousdale, express messenger, who killed two men when they were attempting to rob Southern Pacific passenger train No. 9, near Sanderson, Tex., yesterday, was paid a reward of $100, and in addition will be presented with a gold watch suitably inscribed if the recommendation of Superintendent Taft of the Wells Fargo Express Company is followed.

Mr. Taft said he would recommend that the standing reward given for the arrest and conviction of train robbers be awarded to Trousdale. The usual reward is $300 for each conviction.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

HILLSVILLE (Va.) March 14.—A troop of mountain outlaws rode to the Carroll County Courthouse here, and assassinated the judge upon the bench, the prosecutor before the bar and the sheriff at the door in less than five minutes. The judge, the prosecutor and the sheriff were shot down by the outlaws. The judge was shot in the head, the prosecutor in the chest and the sheriff in the back.

When the crack of the rifles died away only one member of the human fabric of the court—Dexter Goad, the clerk—was alive, and he had been wounded. Jurors and constables were struck by the fusillade, but none was injured seriously.

Tonight the outlaws are up in the mountain bush with a citizen posse, little organized, making a semblance of a pursuit. Sheriff and deputies from the neighboring counties cannot reach here before morning.

A special train from Roanoke tonight brought twenty detectives to Galax, the nearest railroad station, nine miles away. It will be midnight before the men can get over the mountain roads, but deep in spring mud. It probably will be daylight before forces can be assembled.

GOVERNOR OFFERS REWARD. A reward of $1000 for the capture of the band, offered today by Gov. Mann, was increased tonight to $1500. The Governor's proclamation states that $200 each will be paid for individual members of the band, dead or alive.

Capt. F. W. Devant of the Second Virginia Regiment has been ordered to come here with 200 men, rifles and ammunition. The troops at Roanoke and Lynchburg may not be called for.

The shooting terrified Hillsville to the point of paralysis. There was not a man to give an order, or to organize a pursuit.

Judge Thornton L. Massey rose from his chair as the bullets struck him and fell across his desk. Commonwealth Attorney William Foster, with half a dozen men, rushed to the scene and found the judge dead.

Judge McKinley Grills "Purple Mother" in Scathing Address, Declaring She Manifested Characteristics of Venomous Serpent—Fight for Aged Mrs. Thurston's Estate Will Be Finished Today.

BY JOHN M. STEELE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN DIEGO, March 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] No more scathing denunciation could be imagined than that delivered today by Judge J. W. McKinley of Los Angeles in his argument closing the case for the plaintiff in the suit brought by Mrs. Tingley, head of the institution at Point Loma, to recover a fortune left by Mrs. Thurston.

J. Norman Martin, in his opening argument, had denounced Mrs. Tingley as a viper. Referring to the criticism of the attorney for the defense, Judge McKinley said that the characteristic of a viper was to strike and injure and that Mrs. Tingley had certainly shown these characteristics.

"The counsel has complained to you (the jury) that reference has been made to Katherine Tingley as a viper and said that a viper means a venomous serpent," he said. "I will have occasion to point out the things which he said, attempted to discredit on the stand and described the scene when she came to relate the trouble of the plaintiff's death."

Reference was made to Clark Thurston, a member of the Tingley colony, who married Mrs. Thurston after attorneys for Mrs. Tingley had secured from George L. Patterson, the son, securities amounting to a fortune in the "venerable lackey of Mrs. Tingley."

Following his allusion to Mrs. Tingley as a viper, McKinley gave a list of the witnesses whom Mrs. Tingley had called to the stand and described the scene when she came to relate the trouble of the plaintiff's death.

"Like a coiled serpent," said McKinley, "she said to her attorney: 'Must I tell that?' and her counsel sat there and replied in such affirmative. Then she proceeded to relate a story that had no bearing on the case and was meant only to prejudice the jury against the witness. Her venom was reflected again when her counsel referred to the witnesses for the plaintiff."

McKinley then referred to the "platoon after platoon" of witnesses from the Point Loma colony who had come to the stand and described the scene when she came to relate the trouble of the plaintiff's death.

"What is the reason?" he asked. "Are these people untruthful or are they actuated by fanatical motives which make a lie told for the cause a truth?"

DEFENSE OF PATTERSON. Replying to action of the defense McKinley read a letter to her son, George L. Patterson, written two days before the gates of Lomaland closed upon her. McKinley showed that it was not until after the "deluded old woman" had come under the domination of the Tingley colony that she wrote letters complaining of the habits of her son and his business methods, while the letter read by McKinley showed that she had every confidence in her son's personal habits and his business ability.

He said that attorneys for the defense had raked Newcastle, Pa., the former home of Mrs. Patterson, to get evidence for their side without result, and while the attorneys for the plaintiff had tried to get evidence as to the weakness of mind of Mrs. Patterson in San Diego, it had been impossible for the reason that the "aged woman" was always accompanied by one of more members of the Tingley colony.

Referring to a letter to her son in which Mrs. Patterson stated that Dr. Lorrin F. Wood, one of the conspirators, had advised her to rest quietly, McKinley said:

"Of course, it is better for her to rest."

BAND CAR IS READY.

Signal to be Given Next Week.

Taft Managers Count on a Sweeping Victory in New York.

Confident Also of Winning the Delegation from Massachusetts.

Roosevelt Will Try to Stampede National Convention at Last Minute.

BY SUMNER CURTIS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, March 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Taft leaders are looking to New York and Roosevelt leaders to Massachusetts, as States where the delegate primaries may show results far reaching in their general effect on the respective candidacies.

Neither State is as much of a storm center as some of those to the westward, but for peculiar reasons they are exciting the greatest interest of the politicians.

The Taft managers are counting on a sweeping victory in New York week after next to turn the tide absolutely in the President's favor. Such a victory, it is declared, will be the band wagon signal.

On the other hand the Roosevelt managers are pinning a great part of their faith to Massachusetts, providing threatened obstacles to the operation of the primary law which has been passed by the Legislature are removed.

If the proposed primary meets requirements in view of the Roosevelt forces, a desperate effort will be made to carry the State, which has been claimed all along by the President's friends. Success for Roosevelt there will be regarded as a demonstration supporting the contention that the sentiment of the people is for the former President, and that opportunity to speak is all that is necessary to clinch the campaign. Either with or without a primary, the Taft leaders are confident of winning the Massachusetts delegation.

STEADY WINNING. The steady winning of Taft delegates has led many observers to the conclusion that the contest will be determined some time in advance of the convention at Chicago. Whatever may be in store, it is a fact that Roosevelt has not yet begun to "show" in the delegate race. But the Taft managers are not giving way to undue optimism either by reason of the reality to date or those that are expected during the next few weeks.

A suspicion prevails at the Taft headquarters that no matter how the line-up may appear after the last of the State and district delegates have been chosen, the Roosevelt forces will make a final desperate attempt at a stampede on the eve of the national convention. Many delegates, while credited to one candidate or the other, will be uncommitted. It is believed that the final stroke on the part of the Roosevelt men will be the raising of a cry that Roosevelt is the only candidate who can win at the polls in November. They hope to be fortified with examples of the former President's strength in the form of Roosevelt delegations from States having the most unrestricted primary systems. The Taft forces already are preparing to meet such a contingency, and with as much attention to detail as is being devoted to rounding up delegates in these earlier stages of the contest.

TAFT STRONG IN IOWA. One of the surprises of the contest thus far is the strength developed by Taft in Iowa, where the administration not only has had to meet the spirit of insurgency in the abstract, but the fact that the former President's strength in the form of Roosevelt delegations from States having the most unrestricted primary systems. The Taft forces already are preparing to meet such a contingency, and with as much attention to detail as is being devoted to rounding up delegates in these earlier stages of the contest.

It is understood that Senator Cummins himself has confided to friends that he may lose the State convention, but that he will not withdraw his candidacy may be playing in connection with the Iowa situation is a matter the rival political managers view in different lights. It goes without saying, however, that the Taft managers regard the prospective results as most significant.

A summary of the Iowa situation to date shows that conventions of caucuses were held in thirty-nine out of ninety-nine counties up to March 13. The approximate results are: Taft, 405 delegates; Cummins, 180; Roosevelt, twenty-five. During the present week, according to the Taft figures, caucuses, primaries and conventions will be held which will increase the President's vote by twenty-three, and the Cummins vote by sixteen.

The feature of the campaign publicity work today was the sending out of a general alarm from the Taft headquarters to leaders in all the doubtful States, calling for quick reports on the situation. The flood of telegrams in reply make a strong picture showing all the way from New England to the western mountains.

FIVE DEATHS IN THE RECORD.
Grand Jury Said to Be Investigating Further.

San Francisco, March 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The grand jury today returned a verdict of five deaths in the case of the San Francisco shipwreck. The jury found that the ship was overloaded and that the captain was negligent. The verdict was reached after a long and difficult trial. The ship was carrying a large number of passengers and crew. The captain was accused of not having enough lifeboats for everyone on board. The jury also found that the captain was negligent in not having enough food and water for the passengers. The verdict was a heavy one for the captain and the ship's owners. The ship was found to be in a state of disrepair and was not fit to carry so many passengers. The jury's decision was a warning to ship owners and captains to be more careful in the future.

LOOK FOR SIR HARRY.
Oakland Police Hear That Elopement Convict Had Been Seen at His Former Home There.

OAKLAND, March 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Captain of Detectives Walter J. Peterson and a posse of detectives were searching the neighborhood of East Oakland this afternoon for "Sir Harry Cooper," alias Dr. Milton Abraham. A telephone message to the police from a person who said he lived in Lila avenue, near Fourteenth street, close to the house occupied by "Sir Harry," was to the effect that "Sir Harry" was in his former home. The police were informed that the former convict, who is out on parole from San Quentin Penitentiary, drove up to the house alone in a two-seated black automobile.

While posing as a physician and using the alias of Dr. Milton Abraham, the crook recently married Margaret Milbrath of Oakland, after a short courtship carried on in a hospital in which she was employed as a nurse. The girl's mother gave the fugitive $1000, and on the day of the marriage he and the bride left Oakland, presumably for England, where he said he had palatial places and titled relatives.

YUMA (Ark.) March 14.—[By A. P. Night Wire to the Times.] Joe Belth, a prospector, left yesterday for a trip to the mountains, taking a stranger along for company. Today Belth returned with his head badly bruised and cut. He says that last night while asleep the stranger beat him with a shovel, left him for dead, took his money, provisions and team and disappeared. Tonight the team was found near the town. Officers are looking for the assailant.

WOMAN SUES HIM FOR ACCOUNTING

PRESIDENT OF ST. LOUIS CAR COMPANY MADE DEFENDANT.
She Alleges He Failed to Turn Over Proceeds of Realty Deal in New York—He Says "Property Was Purchased With My Money." Calls It Case of Ingratitude.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] ST. LOUIS (Mo.) March 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John J. Beggs, president of the St. Louis Car Company, former president of the North American Company and a widower, is named as defendant in a suit for $40,000 accounting filed by Annie R. Devore of New York in the St. Louis Circuit Court yesterday.

In her petition the plaintiff says she "is now, and at all times herein-after, entitled, without a husband." She alleges that she first met Beggs in New York in 1893, she also says he expressed the utmost friendship for her, and by these representations secured her entire confidence and reliance in his judgment.

This confidence and affection increased, she said, when after 1894 Beggs made her home his when in New York. In 1896, she says, acting on Beggs' advice, she purchased real estate at No. 27 West Twenty-fifth street, in New York.

Later, the petition says, the property sold for $23,000, the purchase price in part being paid by a second mortgage for $40,000.

Beggs, she says, advanced her $15,000 to make the original purchase, and he insisted that the mortgage be made in his name, but promised her the interest and full proceeds from it.

In violation of her rights, she alleges, Beggs retained the entire $40,000 in his own name.

St. Louis afternoon newspapers quote Beggs as saying, when he was informed of Mrs. Devore's suit: "I haven't seen the woman for years. Fortunately for me, I guess, I've kept a lot of her letters and have all the papers relative to the mortgage."

Beggs is reported exhibiting a letter from Mrs. Devore, written in 1910, in which she referred to him as "dear."

"It is the basest ingratitude I have ever met," Beggs is quoted as saying. "The property was purchased with $15,000 of my money, the purchase price was $40,000, of which I gave $15,000 cash, and the remainder was paid by mortgage to the over-ers. When I advanced Mrs. Devore the first $15,000 I only knew her casual-ly. It was entirely the solicitation of mutual friends I did so. I had up to the time I made the first advance of money, taken several meals at her boarding-house and may have stopped there some times. I had gone to beg house the same as I would stop at any other fashionable boarding-house. Many of my St. Louis friends stop there."

SPANISH WAR VETERANS.

Second Annual Gathering of the Department of Columbia, U.S.W.V. to Be Held in This City in June. The second annual encampment of the Department of Columbia, United Spanish War Veterans, will be held in this city June 13-19, inclusive. A large number of the colored soldiers have indicated their intention of taking part in the three-day program, and every indication is for a successful encampment.

There are now four camps in the department—the Gen. H. G. Otis Camp No. 1, of Los Angeles; the Gen. Guy V. Henry Camp No. 2, of Oakland; the Capt. Charles Young Camp No. 4, Vallejo; and the Corporal William White Camp, No. 4, of Denver. The department owes its origin to the organization of the first named of these, in 1903. Its jurisdiction extends from the Mississippi west and all camps composed of negroes exclusively are included in its membership. Its administration is one independent of the other departments but membership is not affected by the privileges attaching to the National Encampment. Details of the encampment are in the hands of a committee of members of the Gen. H. G. Otis Camp, with Department Commander E. N. Moore, of Vallejo, in general charge.

DODGE SCYLLA FOR CHARYBDIS.

Expert Says We Are Over-Commercial.

Wants More Parks and Better Improved Streets.

Would Make Temple Block a Municipal Center.

Los Angeles is devoting too much time to the development of her great municipal and commercial enterprises and not enough to the higher and more beautiful things of life, in the opinion of Charles Mifflin Robinson, city beautiful expert, who arrived at the Alexandria with his wife yesterday. Robinson spoke in the highest way on the Arroyo Seco, which is one of the most charming spots in California. There is no reason why the city should not build a magnificent highway or boulevard connecting the Arroyo with Elysian and Griffith parks. It would make one of the finest and most inspiring drives in the world. You have so many wonderful advantages here and are so sorry that you have not made the most of them. If you don't do it now you'll regret it some day.

Robinson says he would like to outline a scheme for the beautifying of Los Angeles, Pasadena, Hollywood, and the harbor, to be called the "Metropolitan Area Plan." He said it would require a vast sum of money to carry out his ideas, but thought it would be more than pay in the end. He came here from Colorado Springs, where he has been engaged in city planning work. He leaves for San Jose in a few days where he will devote several weeks to framing a city beautiful plan for that city.

DREAMS FOR CREW. The British vessel Inverkip, from Antwerp, that warped into the dock at San Pedro yesterday, was the subject of an official investigation by the local customs authorities. It was reported that the ship had brought a quantity of opium, but it developed that it had been entered among the list of ship stores, and therefore could not be taken. The stuff was used by the Chinese crew.

THE POLITICAL WATCHTOWER.

Taft Republicans are Permanently housed at the Angelus Hotel, according to the decision of Chairman P. A. Stanton yesterday. The temporary quarters in suite No. 321 of the hotel have been found eminently satisfactory for the purpose, and will be maintained until after the Presidential primary, May 14, at least; and will probably be enlarged in the near future.

So large has the active membership of the organization become, and so familiar, already, with the location and convenience of the quarters that a change was deemed a disadvantage. Scores are visiting the rooms daily and registering with Secretary Fleming, and in every part of Los Angeles county the volunteers are at work organizing for the renomination of the President with most gratifying success. Letters from other counties indicate the same activity and success. Even in Riverside, where the insurgents claim everything, the reports are as encouraging as in the counties where the regulars have had control. The letters all indicate a general reaction from the State insurgent leadership and a purpose to call a halt on the radicalism of the Johnson machine. A letter from J. L. Matthews of Covina informed the committee that a Taft club is sure to be organized with large membership at Pomona next Tuesday night, and Chairman Stanton has asked Seward A. Simons, Pasadena, to attend on behalf of the Southern California organization and make a speech. Simons has indicated that he will do so.

Matthews visited San Dimas and Chemsom also, and finds sentiment there pro-Taft. He reports that Monrovia and Azusa are also making preparations for the organization of Taft clubs, to co-operate with the general movement. At Santa Ana tonight a Taft club will be organized, and a large membership is promised. Chairman Stanton has asked Capt. J. D. Fredricks, District Attorney, to represent the Southern California headquarters there, and he has accepted.

"Dore Bell, the 'boy from Napa' and the great actor, was a visitor in Los Angeles yesterday, and incidentally the Clark boom for the Presidency woke up and met with him at the Hollenbeck Hotel in the afternoon. Bell came here with the San Francisco merchants, as the attorney for the retailers' organization. "We are going on steadily with our work," said he, "and I believe we are going to win."

This cautious statement is hardly Bell-like. Four years ago Dore was howling against Hearst, the machine and a lot of other things, and demanding that Democracy "get right" with itself. It did. But it didn't do much good for Dore in his second race for Governor. Yesterday he met with the Clark Executive Committee of Los Angeles, of which E. B. Drake is chairman and D. W. Tungate secretary. The meeting was in Bell's room at the Hollenbeck and besides those named Dr. R. W. Hill, Joe Simons, Milton K. Thomas, F. E. Strader, Charles Gilman, J. T. Wilson and many others were present.

In the importance of the business it is understood that A. M. Norton got up and mentioned the Clark supporters placed A. F. Kallmeyer on the ticket of delegates. Norton was also chosen but he declined to stand unless Kallmeyer was stricken off. He made an appeal to Bell personally. President Drake defended Kallmeyer. Norton's objection was that he (Norton) wasn't sure that Kallmeyer is a Democrat, a Clark man or entitled to go as a Southern California delegate.

Kallmeyer, however, solved all doubts when he made it plain that he is a Democrat of life-long standing, and he lived in Clark's Missouri district before he came to Los Angeles, and that Clark made the speech nominating Kallmeyer for State Auditor of Missouri at a convention several years ago.

The result of Norton's protest leaves him out of the Clark camp—probably a party by himself now. The Clark element is collecting campaign funds now and expects to have some speaking in which former Governor David R. Francis of Missouri will assist.

Because the National Socialist convention will not meet until two days before the California primary election (May 14), the party in this State is worrying whether it will destroy its chance of getting on the November ballot with its candidates. It has been questioned whether, if the Socialists present no Presidential candidate before the voters of California, they can participate in the September primaries for the nomination of candidates and Presidential electors. Apparently their failure to participate in the May primary will imperil their later rights, but to avoid danger Secretary Merriam of the State headquarters will ask a ruling from the Attorney-General. Just what the presence of only Republican and Democrat candidates on the May ballot is almost a certainty. The Socialist party is the only one outside of the other two which is qualified to participate under the 3 per cent regulation.

THE WATCHMAN.

Beauty—real beauty—is more than skin deep. No cosmetic in the world can give the wholesome color, the bright eyes, the clear, transparent skin that is the natural result of pure blood, proper diet and hygienic habits of daily life.

It sounds easy and it is easy for a woman to have the beauty which health alone can give. A safe and efficient tonic if the blood is weak, thin or impure (Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are especially recommended), the avoidance of foods which will cause eruptions, and regular bathing of the skin. That is all and it is the only way. Most ladies, and especially young mothers, will be interested in the following statement:

"After my baby was born," says Mrs. Etta Estes, of No. 333 South Lawndale street, Kansas City, Mo., "I did not gain in strength as I should have. I did not have any color and kept losing in flesh until I was almost a skeleton. I had severe headaches and pains in the side, arms and shoulders. I finally gave up the doctor's treatment in order to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They helped me immediately and I became stronger each day, soon I got a better color and am now in the best of health. I am convinced that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do all that is claimed for them and advise any woman who is suffering as I did to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at once and wait another day."

Write to Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Box 175, Schenectady, N. Y., for a free booklet, "Plan Talks to Women." It is an outstanding but perfectly proper little book and should be read by every woman and growing girl. A free sample of the new laxative "Pills" will also be sent you. Should you be unable to obtain Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People in your locality they will be sent you by mail on receipt of price, fifty cents per box, six boxes for $2.50.

SAYS PRESIDENT HAS SOUTH

Col. Hammond Represents Part of State for

Executive Committee Aggressive Campaign

La Follette Forces Enter Roosevelt

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—) Col. Miller Hammond met with the Executive Committee of the Taft Republicans at the St. Francis Hotel and long discussion about the San Francisco campaign prior to the primary on May 14. The committee was organized in the account of the Los Angeles, from which Hammond returned just in time for the morning's meeting.

"We found the conditions in the southern part of the State satisfactory," Col. Hammond said. "Symphony on the tariff makes an impression on more than 500 men and women who are enthusiastic as can be imagined. President Taft's name is making an impression on the people. The southern section, as almost everywhere, is not so much interested in the tariff as in the combinations of Democracy and Republicanism."

"I talked with a great number of men of long experience in campaigns and they assure me that the southern part of the State is not so much interested in the tariff as in the combinations of Democracy and Republicanism."

"Pitt Stanton, who was chairman of the Taft Republican campaign in California, is a most interesting man. He is a leader for the work in the south, and he has surrounded himself with a large number of strong supporters. He is a man of long experience in campaigns and they assure me that the southern part of the State is not so much interested in the tariff as in the combinations of Democracy and Republicanism."

TAFT ADHERENTS SEATED. Thirteen Delegations, Average Six Delegates, Given Precedence at the California State Convention in the recent visit to the time of the Taft delegates.

GUTHRIE Thirteen Taft delegations, numbering eight delegates, were seated at the California State Convention today, either through direct election or through the action of the Roosevelt delegates. The Roosevelt delegates, who were expected to dominate the convention, were not seated. The Taft delegates, who were expected to dominate the convention, were seated. MAKERS OF MARKETS. Local Division of National Sales Managers' Association Meets and Makes Merry Over Spring. The semi-monthly banquet of the Los Angeles division of the National Sales Managers' Association was held at the Hollenbeck Hotel, Wednesday night. The large number of association members enjoyed the sumptuous spread and excellent speeches. Don Stansberry of the Union Hardware and Metal Company delivered the principal address on "How to Produce a Buyer." It was followed by a general discussion of the subject by those present.

The object of the association is to further the development of the manufacturing and jobbing industry in Los Angeles. In the evolution of business and the improved methods of conducting it, the position of sales manager has become one of the most important in the entire business organization. The association was formed in October, 1909, with divisions in all the large cities and jobbing and manufacturing centers.

The local division is made up of all the sales managers of the various Los Angeles jobbing and manufacturing houses. Its officers and directors are: Alfred J. Soule, president; H. R. MacLafferty, first vice-president; S. R. Botaford, second vice-president; Don Stansberry, third vice-president; C. H. Carter, treasurer; C. E. Roseberry, secretary. The directors are: H. F. Brinker, D. H. Schumann, H. Albert de Wit, E. W. Fense and J. B. Wood. A Publicity Committee was appointed and is already actively engaged in attracting the attention of buyers throughout the world to Los Angeles products and to its desirability as a trading center.

YOUNG HEROES IN COURT. Seventeen-Year-Old Boy Wonder on Trial Charged With Having Assaulted Gas Man—His Story. Samuel slew Goliath with the jawbone of an ass and brought a temple tumbling down on his head because he was too strong; the Cyclops had wicked designs, but was made more de combat by one Ulysses; Hercules, who never lost a fight, was relieved of the burden of the world by the earth on his shoulders, but it remained for a Los Angeles strong man to display his prowess in the most approved fashion.

Orville Stamm, the 17-year-old local wonder, was in the Juvenile Court yesterday to answer a charge of having slugged an employee of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation. Stamm has various Sandowian stunts in his repertoire of muscular feats, among which is the balancing of a full-grown piano on his chest. A man blithely climbs upon the instrument and, to add eclat to the feat, sings a song.

The singing of the song doesn't add weight to Stamm's burden, but possibly it makes it harder to bear. The hearing in the Juvenile Court will be resumed in the afternoon. Stamm has various Sandowian stunts in his repertoire of muscular feats, among which is the balancing of a full-grown piano on his chest. A man blithely climbs upon the instrument and, to add eclat to the feat, sings a song.

DISCLAIMS RESPONSIBILITY. An official statement issued by Capt. C. F. Startman, adjutant and inspector of the National Soldiers' Home, disclaims any responsibility for the plight in which William Erwin, an old soldier whose feet were frozen in a Utah blizzard three weeks ago, found himself on arriving in this city. The records of the Home contain no mention of Erwin and the officials there received no notification of his coming, the knowledge which they had of his arrival being the newspaper account of his misfortune. No fault whatever attaches to the Home for the incident. The surgeons at the County Hospital, where the veteran was taken by the Travelers' Aid Society, fear they will be unable to save the old man's feet.

Col. Hammond Reports This Part of State for Taft.

Executive Committee Plans Aggressive Campaign.

La Follette Force Will Not Enter Roosevelt Camp.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 14.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Col. Charles Hammond met with the Executive Committee of the Taft Republican Club of California yesterday at the St. Francis Hotel and had a long discussion about the plans for the state campaign prior to the Presidential primary on May 14.

The committee was deeply interested in the account of his trip to Los Angeles, from which Col. Hammond returned just in time for this morning's meeting.

"We found the conditions in the southern part of the State entirely satisfactory," Col. Hammond said to the committee. "Symphony Hall was crowded on Monday afternoon by more than 500 men and women who were as enthusiastic as can well be imagined. President Taft's attitude in the tariff makes an especially strong appeal to the people of the southern section, as almost their entire industries and natural products would be most seriously damaged by the tariff schemes as proposed by the combinations of Democrats and Roosevelt Republicans."

"I talked with a great number of men of long experience in political campaigns and they assure me that the southern part of the State will be carried for President Taft. But we must not deceive ourselves into the notion that the work is to be done in a perfunctory manner and that it will do itself. There is a great deal to be done and we must get at it at once."

Col. Stanton, who was elected chairman of the Taft Republicans of Southern California, is a most excellent leader for the work in that section, and he has surrounded himself with a large number of strong and enthusiastic Republicans who have been at the campaign in a spirit of enthusiasm that is good to see.

"The organizations are forming all the counties and the men leading the Taft forces in all these smaller divisions of the State are the kind of men that assure victory."

"Of course, we all must realize that Southern California is the stronghold of the insurgent movement, and that a vigorous campaign must be carried on there from the start to the end and every day. The effect of the switch by Gov. Johnson from La Follette to Roosevelt is plainly apparent in the South. The Johnson move has found it impossible to carry more than half of the La Follette supporters to Roosevelt."

"The third-term tradition is so deeply regarded that the Roosevelt move really is a most serious handicap in their campaign."

The announcement that Secretary of State Knox will come to California and make two speeches, one in San Francisco and the other in Los Angeles, greatly pleased the Republican leaders. Stanton said that the party are perfecting plans for a round reception to Secretary Knox.

Those Delegations, Aggregating Eighty-six Delegates, Given Places in Oklahoma State Convention.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

OKLAHOMA (Okla.), March 14.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Delegates, numbering eighty-six, were seated when the Oklahoma State Republican convention met today, either through winning seats with Roosevelt delegations or expected Roosevelt delegates. Although this does not affect the Roosevelt-Taft situation, the Roosevelt workers are determined to defeat the Republican James A. Harris, a Taft adherent, in his candidacy as national committeeman. The expected fight between the Taft and Roosevelt forces on the convention broke over an attempt to make a temporary organization. The forces made noisy protest against Taft delegates, who had been seated, to vote.

This Will Cure Your Cold

Mix It for Yourself at Your Own Home—Nothing Secret About It—No Drugs.

Medical authorities recognize the curative qualities of oil of pine in all inflammations of the mucous membrane of nose, throat, lungs and digestive organs. Whenever there is a catarrhal condition, inflammation of the urinary passages or rheumatism due to uric acid, virgin oil of pine brings speedy relief.

The worst colds, coughs, soreness of the throat, bronchitis and catarrhal disturbances are said to disappear inside of twenty-four hours, if treated with absolutely pure virgin oil of pine, which is prepared by the Leach Chemical Company of Cincinnati, Ohio, and supplied by reputable druggists everywhere in sealed half-ounce vials, insuring freshness.

Mix the contents of one of these vials with two ounces of glycerine and half a pint of pure whiskey. Shake well and take a teaspoonful every four hours. It is not necessary for you to experiment with patent cough syrups or dangerous compounds of unknown ingredients, many of which contain drugs and opiates. Virgin oil of pine is nature's own remedy and is harmless, mild and soothing.

Director McKinley Gives Statements Showing Growth of Sentiment Favorable to President in Contested States—West Virginia Governor Lauds Roosevelt.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Unusual activity was evident at both the Taft and Roosevelt campaign headquarters here today.

As the result of inquiries by Director McKinley, the Taft headquarters gave out a score of reports to show growing Taft sentiment throughout contested States.

Senator Dixon, manager of the Roosevelt campaign, engineered for the newspaper men a personal interview with Gov. Glascock of West Virginia. Gov. Glascock gave out a statement which Mr. Dixon had written, conveying Gov. Glascock's opinion that "in his political experience he never yet has seen a more determined uprising of the rank and file of the Republican party than in the present situation for Roosevelt."

Gifford Pinchot, Representative of Illinois, Gov. Glascock and Senator Dixon, the new assistant manager of the Roosevelt campaign, offered emphatic expressions of their confidence in the swelling tide of Roosevelt sentiment.

A telegram from Harry S. New of Indianapolis, chairman of the Republican National Committee, made public by the Taft campaign committee, said that the "Roosevelt sentiment is palpably on the wane in Indiana," and that President Taft probably would secure the four delegates-at-large there, as well as most of the district delegates.

A counter statement from the Roosevelt managers charged that the "Taft machine" in Indiana, "banned now by ex-Senator Hemenway" was trying by early conventions to "throttle any expression of sentiment by Republican voters of Indiana and to thwart their desire to participate in the selection of their presidential candidate."

KING USES A SCISSORS.

George Cuts the Red Tape of Court Precedence and Ranks Their Wives With the Ambassadors.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

LONDON, March 14.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) An interesting change in court precedence has been ordered by King George whereby wives of ambassadors will take rank with husbands. Hitherto wives of Ambassadors to the Court of St. James had no rank of their own. If they appeared at court unattended by husbands they were obliged to take a low position in the procession, coming after junior ministers.

The continued indisposition of Whiteley Reid, American Ambassador, and the illness of the Marquis Imperiali, Italian Ambassador, placed wives of the two diplomats in a delicate position. At the last court Mrs. Reid refrained from attending and presentations of American women were made by Countess Benckendorff, wife of the Russian Ambassador, who is doyenne of the diplomatic corps. King George immediately cut the red tape. Through the master of ceremonies he issued a new order, so that Mrs. Reid will be able to present her fellow countrywomen personally at Thursday night's function.

FRESNO AND EASTERN.

SACRAMENTO, March 14.—Articles of incorporation for the Fresno and Eastern Railroad Company, capitalized at $1,000,000, all of which is already subscribed, were filed today. The road, which is to be about fifty miles long, will extend from Gordon Switch, Fresno county, on the Friant branch of the Southern Pacific, to Powerhouse Site No. 1, near Big Creek, Fresno county, Los Angeles will be the headquarters of the new company, and the directors named are: G. C. Ward of South Pasadena, A. N. Kemp, W. E. Dunn, H. F. Baumgartner, and Albert Crutcher of Los Angeles. G. C. Ward of the directorate has subscribed $550 of the $1,000 shares.

PRESERVATION Worth Knowing

The following prescription is valuable to any one with kidney or bladder trouble. Mix one-half ounce mixture compound, one-half ounce fluid extract buchu, six ounces good pure gin. Shake well each time and take one to two teaspoonfuls after each meal and at bedtime. Any good druggist can supply or mix these ingredients. This treatment should be taken at first sign of kidney or bladder trouble to avoid development of diabetes, Bright's disease or chronic rheumatism.

Typical Scene in Beautiful Westmoreland Place

Probably No Other City in America Can Boast So Attractive a Community As Close To Its Business Center

Keeping pace with the enormous activity in building medium-priced homes in Los Angeles, is the significant growth of exclusive Westmoreland Place, where every home that is poured is all that wealth can make it.

Here, within a magnificent park, where every art of the landscape gardener has been lavished, discriminating Los Angeles citizens dwell in sequestered quietude and exclusiveness, only six minutes from the throbbing business center.

With the marvelous growth of Los Angeles, property of this character is becoming scarce, and exceedingly valuable, and yet, it is a significant fact that such property in other leading American cities commands a much higher price than is yet being asked in Los Angeles.

In Westmoreland Place, the building lots have been laid out in anticipation of large rambling homes, the idea being to afford unlimited scope for architectural expression, and for the realization of landscape ideals. The inside building sites are all 100x200 feet, and the corners, 150x200 feet.

It seems needless to say, the utility improvements are all the very highest class, and in harmony with the character of the community. All electric wires are underground, and no unsightly poles mar the beauty of the landscape. Shade trees, palms and ornamental shrubbery, planted years ago, have now attained most luxuriant growth, transforming the place into a veritable park. The beautiful Broadway lighting system extends out Pico street—artistically illuminating the entire distance from Westmoreland Place to the business center.

Passing Westmoreland Place, are both West Pico and West Elvert street cars, furnishing a seven-minute ute service, while the automobilist has advantage of one of the best asphalt boulevards in the city, the entire distance to the business center. Westmoreland Place, because of the many unique and unusual conditions which prevail, offers one of the most attractive investment opportunities in Los Angeles today. A Customer Leaving Your Store Must Have Done One of Five Things

| 1 Bought Goods for Cash | 2 Bought Goods on Credit | 3 Paid Money on Account | 4 Collected Money | 5 Changed a Coin or Bill |
| A National Cash Register insures the merchant that all cash will be accounted for and handled correctly. It prevents lost customers through misunderstandings over change. It benefits the customer because it prevents annoyance and loss through disputes, and enables him to prove prices paid. It benefits clerks by removing temptation, preventing unjust suspicion, and enabling them to prove their worth. | A National Cash Register benefits the merchant by preventing loss through failure to charge goods sold on credit or through lost charge slips. It benefits the customer by preventing wrong amounts being charged to his account. It benefits the clerk by furnishing evidence that he has entered the proper charge and handled the transaction correctly. | A National Cash Register enforces a correct record and this insures the merchant that he gets all the money received on account. It furnishes the customer proof of having paid and enables him to know that he receives proper credit. It removes temptation from the clerk and furnishes him the means of proving his carefulness in handling money. | A National Cash Register benefits the merchant, by preventing anyone paying out money without leaving a record of the amount. This enables him to balance the cash quickly and prevents bills being paid twice. It benefits the one to whom money is paid because it precludes the possibility of dispute in the future. It benefits the clerk by showing evidence that he paid out the correct amount. | A National Cash Register protects the merchant against loss in making change and furnishes the means of advertising to those who ask to be accommodated. The customer is benefited because the merchant is willing to extend the favor of changing a coin or bill when he can do so without the chance of loss. It guides the clerk in counting money, and furnishes evidence of his accuracy. |

A National Cash Register benefits Merchant, Customer and Clerk on all of these Transactions

We have always guaranteed to furnish a better cash register for less money than any other concern in the world We can do this because:

1. We created the industry and have devoted thirty years to its development.
2. Expert inventions departments have always been making valuable improvements to meet the merchants' needs.
3. Improved machinery, well arranged factory and organization, have reduced cost of manufacturing.
4. Improved working conditions have resulted in co-operation which meant a better product.
5. We have always maintained a field force of thoroughly trained business experts capable of offering valuable suggestions to merchants.
6. We have for years held schools and conventions where employees are trained in their work.
7. The demands of merchants have always been our guide in building machines.
8. We have extended the cash register business to every civilized country in the world. By doing a large foreign business, we are able to manufacture in large quantities and sell at lowest prices.
9. In 1911 we sold 136,016 Cash Registers. 41% of this business was sold in foreign countries.
10. More than one million National Cash Registers have been sold.

Men and Religion Campaign
Draws to Close.

Raymond Robins, World-Wide Labor Problems.

Strong Talk by Dr. Barbour on Co-operation.

The campaign of the Men and Religion Forward Movement was devoted to a number of conferences yesterday. A most refreshing directness has characterized all the addresses before the convention, the institutes and the conferences. The team of eight prominent men who have given impetus to the movement are each and all men of remarkable devotion to the work, and possess ability and attractiveness as the men of the world. They have been able to have peculiar fitness for the situation of the work placed in their hands.

It has been a rare opportunity for the men of Los Angeles to hear addresses and discussions worth while, and a few opportunities yet remain for those who have not heard them to do so. Today they go to Pasadena to hold a series of meetings and institutes, but this evening the platform meetings will be held in the different parts of the city as during the past four days, and Saturday and Sunday the closing meetings will be held.

Before the social service section yesterday afternoon, Raymond Robins delivered one of the most eloquent and seasonally interesting addresses that has characterized the entire campaign, when he spoke on "The Industrial Situation as a World-Wide Problem." He placed it in importance as affecting the interest of the whole people. He placed the religious problem first, the political problem second, and the industrial problem third. His review of the labor situation in the countries of the world, was one of the most terse, instructive and phenomenally eloquent presentations of the question probably ever heard in this city. So important does he regard the world problem that he declared the local struggle, in the face of it, as rubbed out of sight. He further declared that the religious question has come so prominently before the present generation because it is the first time in the history of the world that production has been exclusively for profit, and because it is within this generation that the western frontier has ceased to exist.

HERE'S WHERE STRAIN IS.
"The point where the line steps in the point of greatest strain," he said, "and for that reason the struggle has been greatest on the Pacific Coast, where the frontier ends."

"Thirty years ago employing capital was personally controlled, but it has now been changed to corporate control. Do not think that I am suggesting that the employing group is socially or morally less strong than it was thirty years ago, for it is not. There's about as much human nature in the employer as in any other man—if you can get it on the job."

He laid much of the industrial unrest to the "casual laborers"—those men who are employed only during a portion of each year, demanding them as "the damnable trades." He said there are sixteen of them, and that it is the men of these trades who are a menace to the cities. While he spoke strongly in favor of organized labor, he announced himself as particularly in favor of a "trade agreement," which may be operative in other "open" or "closed" shops.

"You tell me of their violence and viciousness in some cases. Granted, every one, but you may follow that out in every walk in life. Murder is murder, violence is violence, and should be sternly met by social order. Any man who attempts to excuse murder or violence is an enemy of his race."

Somebody asked him: "How about the dynamiters?"
"The average worker," he answered, "is just as much opposed to crime and violence as the average capitalist is to bribery and corruption. Both are common enemies of civilization."

"How about the situation when the head-carrier demands $70 a day?" he was asked.

His reply was: "When any group, or a labor union, becomes over-organized it becomes a combination, and a menace and should be suppressed."
First and above all he places the religion of the Lowly Nazarene, declaring this to be the solution of every difficulty. He indorses arbitration between employer and employee, but when asked about a political commission to settle disputes, said it would not do, for the reason that it would naturally be biased in favor of one of the other.

FOR CO-OPERATION.
Dr. C. A. Barbour of New York, team leader, in an address yesterday afternoon on "Inter-Church Responsibility," said a number of striking things.

"We are not here to talk down so-called denominationalism," he said. "We are here to take things as they come, and long after you, and I am sure there will be denominations, which simply means that there will continue to be bodies of Christians known by different names. I have never been able, in all my various activities, to get up much enthusiasm on church unity, but I am tremendously interested in church co-operation. I am a denominationalist, but I'd like to have somebody prove to me that I am sectarian. This team of which I am a member, represents almost every communion, but none of us are sectarian."

He said that man who is not loyal to his church and pastor, in an effort to make that particular church a power for good—well, I would not be much for his religion. A man who is not a member of a local church, if he's to amount to anything in the service of God, but men will not come to church Sunday after Sunday just to hear us preach. They will not do it."

so many things we can do together that it is necessary to have the best material in charge of the work."
One of the strong, original men is John M. Dean of Seattle, who spoke on "Community Extension." He said, among other things:

"We didn't used to call it 'community extension,' but we always did it. A few red-hot fellows got together, and instead of the Y.M.C.A. and the Salvation Army doing it alone, we united in the work, and it ought to be done in Los Angeles and all the surrounding towns."

He said the work should be in the hands of live committees that it would not be necessary to call by telephone a half-dozen times in order to get them to attend, and that churches should be built as to be useful for work outside the church.

"There is not a promise in the Bible from Genesis to Revelations," he said, "that the work will go to the church, but there is a definite promise that the church will go to the world. There are thousands of people in Southern California. I don't care how powerful your preaching or how many good stories you tell, who will never go near the church. My plan is not for a new gospel, but for a new pair of legs under the old gospel."

Rev. W. A. Brown of Chicago made the application to the individual life, and preached an incisive sermon to the assembled men.

"The whole programme will have been a failure," he said, "if there has been no enlargement in the life of the individual man."

REAL AMERICANS ARE DEAD.
Raymond Robins took the subject of "Immigration" for his talk at the Social Service Institute at 4:30 o'clock.

"This country is made up of immigrants," said Mr. Robins, "and I hope we shall be able to look at this question in a broad-minded way. We are all immigrants, and because some of us have been here a little longer than others doesn't alter the case. The only Simon-pure Americans are the Indians, and most of them are dead. I want you to realize that immigration has a great reaction back upon the old country."

"I am a laboring man. Just now I am out of it, but I belong to that group and was reared among them. We have the finest class of laboring men in the world, but when it comes to the highest attainment in the life of the individual man, we are deficient—we will not pay the price."

Among the class of immigrants obtaining the highest efficiency in the crafts he mentioned the Swiss lens-grinders, the Bohemian glass-blowers and Syrian weavers. He said that willingness to work is fundamental in industrial civilization, but that his chief concern is not in getting people to work.

"Let me say," said Mr. Robins, "that I do not discriminate between the box-car bum and the parlor-car bum, to the detriment of the box-car bum."

"All through our history we have been dealing with the immigrant problem from the wrong end. We have been protecting our folks from the immigrant, when we ought to protect the immigrant from our folks. I know the criminal immigrant probably as well as anyone—and he is of moment—but he is only a drop in the bucket. If we do no better than we have in the past, we are, but we are not going to allow them to be thrown against the standard of the American labor as they have been in the past. The problem is going to be right at your door in great fashion, and you must meet it intelligently or they will become a burden to you. There should be an intelligent, distributive labor problem should be under public supervision, and their savings should also be under public supervision."

BANK CHAUFFERS.
He spoke of the common practice of banks that are set up to catch the unwary foreigner, of placing the sign "Notary Public" in a prominent position. It looks very innocent to an American, but the foreigner recognizes it as an assurance that the bank is under government supervision. He appealed to his business with the hope that "the laws of Los Angeles and California would be translated in good season into the foreign tongue, in order that well-meaning immigrants might understand."

Mr. Robins was followed by Dana Bartlett, who also spoke upon the same subject. Mr. Bartlett has been elected president of the Immigration Study League, recently organized in Seattle, and expects to return in the near future to make a careful study of laws and conditions. He declared that he hoped to see every immigrant a ward of the nation until he is either Americanized or sent back home. As one means of making new citizens, he suggested that the government should have a "Citizenship Day," under the patronage of the Naturalization Court. It will have its first celebration at Bethlehem Institution on March 22, when the average of about fifty new citizens will be invited to there and celebrate the event, instead of going to a saloon and getting drunk, as many of them do. There will be exercises suitable to the occasion and present and greet each guest of honor with the hand of fellowship, and present him with the Stars and Stripes as a souvenir of the occasion.

TAKES BUGGY DOWN STREAM.
Covina Man in Attempting to Cross Arroyo Almost Loses His Life—Vehicle is Destroyed.

COVINA, March 14.—An incident of the rain of Wednesday noon, when every arroyo was filled to the brim with stormwater, was the total destruction of a buggy belonging to Leslie Higgins of the his 800-acre ranch southeast of the town. Higgins and his son, Leslie, who is 8 years old, nearly lost their lives in an attempt to cross the Walnut River, on the road from Covina to Pomona.

The wash had become a roaring river. Higgins had been told it was dangerous. The swift water had gouged out a deep channel, and when the buggy reached the bottom of the stream, it was swept away. The boy was thrown out and caught beneath the overturned buggy. Higgins was obliged to fight desperately to save his boy and his own life, and the horses were only saved after a long struggle in the stream. Parts of the ruins of the buggy were traced miles down stream yesterday, and the violent water had literally torn the vehicle apart.

Santa Monica. NEW BATH HOUSE. BEING PLANNED.

SANTA MONICA PROMOTER IS ORGANIZING A COMPANY.

Will be Modern in All Essentials Except in the Matter of a Plunge. Picture Film Concern Lease Land from the Southern Pacific—News Notes.

SANTA MONICA, March 14.—W. J. Stadelman and associates, who own considerable North Beach ocean frontage, have authorized the organization of a company for the purpose of building a bath-house. The plans are drawn for the structure show that it will have a first floor of 200 feet and will be 100 feet deep. It is to contain 200 dressing rooms, tub and Turkish baths, sun parlors, tea rooms and all modern conveniences. There will be no warm plunge, but every attention will be given to the convenience of surf bathers.

SCHOOL DEBATE.
Friday night, Harold Briggs and Norman Jensen will go to Santa Barbara, where, representing the Santa Monica School, they will debate with the Santa Barbara team, taking the negative of the question, "Resolved, That the Commission Form of Government Should Be Applied to Cities."

At the same time in the High School auditorium here, Walter Hollywood and Harrison Munro of Santa Monica High will sustain the affirmative of the same question, their opponents on this occasion being a team from the Santa Barbara school.

PICTURE MAKERS.
The Kalem motion-picture makers have taken possession of the Southern Pacific passenger depot grounds, under their three-year lease, and at once the work of rearranging the place was commenced. A pretty ornamental fence will be erected surrounding the grounds and the depot will be reconstructed and added to so as to provide reception and dressing-rooms, business office, storerooms, etc.

The Kalem people have been operating on the beach and in the canyons near here for several months, and like it so well here that they have decided to remain throughout the next three years, and perhaps for a longer time.

FRATERNAL CELEBRATION.
The committee from Seaside Odd Fellows' Lodge having in charge the preliminary arrangements for the celebration here of the ninety-third anniversary of Odd Fellowship has succeeded in having all the Rebekah lodges of the forty-eighth district appoint committees to act in conjunction with the Odd Fellows' lodges and help to make the first picnic and anniversary celebration an assured success. With the two branches of the order working in conjunction there can be no other termination to their efforts. At the meeting of committee from all lodges, plans for this celebration were thoroughly discussed and a programme outlined. It is proposed that this anniversary shall consist of a reunion of the Odd Fellows' and their families of the forty-eighth district at Santa Monica Canyon. The date will be April 26, and the exercises of the day will consist of having a good time.

TICKET PLACED IN FIELD.
Progressive City Club of Glendale Makes Plans for a Vigorous Campaign in Behalf of Candidates.

GLENDALE, March 14.—A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Progressive City Club was held last evening to make plans for a vigorous campaign in behalf of the candidates for the city offices. The ticket as completed is as follows: For Trustees, Thomas Watson, Frank Showater and J. W. Lawson; for City Clerk, George B. Woodbury; for Treasurer, O. Hoffman.

The following-named gentlemen in the newly-formed precincts were elected to canvass and get out the full vote:

Precinct No. 1.—C. O. Pulliam, E. D. Goode, H. A. Wilson, Dr. R. E. Chase, Cameron Thomas, Frank Zerr, Howard Walker, J. M. Andrews, Dr. Leon Hurt.

Precinct No. 2.—A. L. Wright, G. W. Calais, Les M. Smith, Paul V. Tuttle, J. R. Bright, W. J. Smith, Paul V. Tuttle.

Precinct No. 3.—H. Flower, Harry Petty, O. L. Pappas, Charles Zerr, Henry Fackler, H. C. Downing, A. P. Offut, A. A. Rand, E. L. Hunt, Frank Patch.

Precinct No. 4.—A. B. Heacock, W. R. Middleworth, D. Carney, R. W. Meeker, A. F. Stoffel, Charles Grist, A. L. Eves, Spencer Robinson.

The club members desire to vote independently for grammar school trustees, except as to A. B. Heacock, who was unanimously indorsed. There has never been an election in this city that has aroused so much interest, and a record vote is sure to be polled. Another meeting of the club will be held at Odd Fellows' Hall next Wednesday evening.

NEWS BRIEFS.
Charles H. Toll of the Security Savings Bank of Los Angeles gave a dinner to a party of friends at La Brea Monday evening. The feature of the dinner was a lecture on the coming school bond election, which will come before the local voters on March 28, was taken up for discussion and a committee was appointed, consisting of eleven members, to boost the bond issue. Subcommittees have been appointed to attend to certain parts of the territory. The committee consists of Charles H. Toll, chairman; J. L. Keyes, secretary; T. E. Stanton, J. C. M. Walton, R. H. Starnberg, Julius Kranz, George Holman, Madison B. Jones, David Black, L. D. Oliver and Dan Campbell.

Charles H. Toll, manager of the Glendale Light and Power Company, entered a protest with the Glendale Trustees this week against the Glendale Light and Power Company, claiming that the feed wires of the railway company are in such a position as to threaten the lives of the men working on the lines of the San Fernando Valley Home company in that particular section. The matter was taken under consideration by the trustees, and has been referred to the City Attorney and manager of the lighting department.

SEEK CAUSE OF DEATH.
How Silberio Lopez, who roomed at No. 518 North Alameda street, came to his death by asphyxiation, yesterday, the police are endeavoring to ascertain. H. Yamachika, proprietor of the lodging-house, called the police, saying that he found Lopez in his room with nose gas turned on. But the body was in the hall and there was no money whatever on his person when the police came, and they are making an investigation.

SLAUGHTER IN COURT.

OUTLAW UP FOR SENTENCE.
Floyd Allen was before the bar this morning, convicted of taking a prisoner from a deputy sheriff. Allen had struck the sheriff over the head with the butt of a rifle and the prisoner escaped. Sheriff Webb had gone up into the mountains and taken Allen, despite dire warnings of what such a venture might mean. Attorney Foster had prosecuted him fearlessly and a mountain jury gathered from the inland section (for no man in Carroll county cared to sit on the trial of Allen) had convicted him.

This morning the fact that he was to be sentenced attracted an unusual large gathering to the Courtroom, in the center of the village. Those who could not get into the small room peered through the windows opened to the first days of spring.

DESPERADOES SWARM IN.
Just as Allen was about to be called up for sentence his two brothers, Sidney and Jack, at the head of a troop of twenty mountaineers, rode up to the Courtroom. Their ponies, splashed with mud, testified to a long ride through the hills.

The two brothers and their companions, some carrying rifles and others armed with revolvers, crowded into the small courtroom, and stood behind the rail and about the door. Floyd Allen, the prisoner at the bar, was shot several times, probably not fatally. Sheriff Webb's deputy, with country folk is guarding Allen. It is reported that friends may attempt to rescue him tonight.

Dexter Goad, clerk of the court, who was wounded during the fighting in the courtroom, died last today. Judge Massee fell dead in his place on the bench at the first volley. Then the weapons were turned on Commonwealth's Attorney Foster, and he sank to the floor with several bullets in his brain, death being instantaneous.

Before the last word was concluded, the fusillade began. Allen, with an oath that he would never go to prison, sprang out of the prisoner's dock and the sheriff followed him. Another roar of shots, and Prosecutor Foster was on the floor in a heap. Sheriff Webb was springing forward for his prisoner when the bullets found him.

Then holding the panic-stricken jurors and onlookers at bay, the assassins backed out of the Courtroom and across the green to the troop of ponies. In a second they were galloping through the village and off to the hills.

CARRY WOUNDED COMRADE.
With them the assassins half carried, half dragged one of their number, wounded. It was said that this was Sidney Allen, one of the brothers.

Three jurors, Fowler, Faddis, Bruce Marshall and Stuart Worrell, by-standers, were wounded.

had been reports that an assassin might be made to ransom his life. He had been a prisoner recently to escape from the county. The trial had been in session for several days, however, with indication becoming plain of a carefully planned plot of the brothers and their associates to crowd stone and crude furniture among the first arrivals and to place places near the rail marking the scene for the prisoner and his associates and their associates and associates.

Garbage Report of County Grand Jury Blames Board of Public Works for What Is Described As Intolerable Menace to Public Health—Arrests to Follow If Problem Is Unsolved by First of May.

REVOLTING conditions in the manner of disposal of the city's garbage are laid bare, and the Board of Public Works is severely criticized in the partial report of the county grand jury filed with President Judge Hutton of the Superior Court yesterday. The grand jury further finds that the maintenance of the 20,000 or more hogs near Covina is a menace to the health of residents of that section and a public nuisance.

While the body merely sets forth the findings of fact as shown by testimony of dozens of witnesses, it is certain that the county authorities will act upon the report. If the city does not provide for other disposal of its garbage by May 1, the date when the new county ordinance regulating the disposal of refuse goes into effect, arrests will be made of those responsible for present conditions.

The report was made yesterday after an investigation of several weeks, during which time testimony was taken from Mayor Alexander, members of the Board of Public Works, City Council and residents of the county who have protested for months against the maintenance of the hog farm.

Last fall at a joint meeting of the Board of Supervisors, the Mayor and other city officials, it was represented that some method must be put into effect by the city to relieve the farmers and residents of outside towns from the offensive conditions resulting from the existing manner of disposing of the city garbage. It was then stated that the city would be given until May 1 to erect a reduction plant or incinerator. Nothing has yet been done by the city officials, according to the report.

It is believed that the Board of Public Works will be at once forced to make arrangements for an incinerator, or else sell the garbage to Vernon hog raisers, as was formerly done. Under the new county ordinance that becomes effective May 1, it is unlawful to take refuse from one incorporated city to any place within the county except another incorporated city. This will make it impossible for the Board of Public Works to maintain its present contract with the V. D. Reduction Company. Under the law a penalty of six months in jail or a fine of $500 may be imposed for each violation of the ordinance.

The grand jury report comes as the culmination of a dispute between county and city authorities that has lasted for months. The county is unwilling to have the city dump its refuse in sections where the public health is menaced, and, according to the report, intolerable conditions prevailed from the feeding of thousands of hogs on decaying refuse.

FRIGHTFUL CONDITIONS. It is said that sanitary experts testified before the grand jury that hundreds of the hogs on the ranch near Covina are infected with tuberculosis, and that many of the animals sold to the butchers are diseased to an alarming extent. They declared that all persons using pork from these diseased animals were in danger of sickness, and epidemic might spread from the maintenance of the enormous hog farm.

The report states, "We find that the percentage of tubercular hogs on this ranch ranges from 10 to 20 per cent. Of this number 2 per cent. are From Tattered Manuscript.

BEST-SELLER PUBLISHER BUYS FINE RANCH HERE.
ELSHERRY REYNOLDS, the publisher, who once befriended an author who offered him a tattered, much-traveled manuscript, by bringing it out as a book, thereby making himself and the author forever removed from financial cares, believes that in the mountains and plains of La Verne Valley he has found a home that has all his desires woven into one fabric. Reynolds has known what it is to live day after day with persons who describe wonderful scenery in books, but he says he never read of such beauty as he sees in that valley; if he had he would have printed the book. So he bought the tract, and it cost a lot of money, too.

After a month's tour of the Coast the couple will go to Indiana to make their home. The out-of-town guests are: Mrs. Pauline Gordon of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Denny of Indiana, Lewis Ravage and daughter, Miss Nellie, of San Bernardino; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Steinhart of Ocean Park, and Joseph Fleiter and daughter, Miss Sarah, of Santa Monica.

The investigations of this grand jury show that at the present time there are about 21,000 hogs on hand and that the mortality from disease ranges from 40 to 65 per cent. "We further find that within five to ten feet of the surface of the ground where this trash is located, are the water strata from which comes the water used for domestic purposes."

Which was made the subject of a savagely condemning report by the county grand jury yesterday following an exhaustive investigation of some weeks under the direction of Deputy Dist. Atty. Hill. Members of the Board of Public Works are specifically blamed for what are designated as conditions presenting a frightful menace to the public health. Among other things the report states that, of the 20,000 swine at the Covina hog farm, so large a percentage are constantly infected with cholera and swine plague as to quarantine the ranch for "all other purposes than slaughtering for food."

MISSIONARIES SLAIN.
Leader of Adventist Ministerial Institute Makes Growsome Announcement From China.

In the Seventh-Day Adventist Institute, in Central Park Hall, E. W. Farnsworth of Oakland, announced yesterday that he had received a letter from I. H. Evans of Shanghai, notifying him that one of the missionary couplets of the denomination had been murdered by the natives. Missionary Sherman A. Nagel had been robbed of all his belongings, and a German missionary who was with him, was shot. The letter also stated that two other couplets and another missionary were missing. Still another couplet, Mr. Hag, climbed the walls of the city of Ying Shang, and upon being promised by the revolutionists that all the missionaries would be spared, opened the gates of the city.

An interesting visitor to the institute will arrive this morning, in the person of Mrs. E. G. White of Loma Linda. She is 85 years of age and is author of more than a half dozen works of a religious character. A. G. Daniels stated to the institute that there are 20,000 young men and young women in the schools, academies and colleges of the Adventist denomination.

WOMEN DEPUTY CONSTABLES.

Two, Both Unmarried and Comely, Appointed by Thomas—No Criminal Business at First. Since woman's suffrage became a law in California there have been women deputy sheriffs and female policemen, but yesterday was the first time on record in the State when two women were appointed as deputy constables. The two officers are Miss Cora B. Taylor and Miss Ella B. McClellan, both living at No. 288 South Figueroa street. They are eager to show their independence and earn some money. Both are versed in business and do not fear to exercise their new duties.

Curiously enough the two young women appointed were sworn in under Constable Thomas. For some time Constable Lyons has been planning to add one or two women deputies to his already efficient corps of officers, but Miss McClellan's business made it inconvenient for him to do so. So Thomas stole a march on him yesterday by securing two comely young women. Miss McClellan will wear star No. 133 and Miss Taylor No. 164.

Neither will be given criminal business at first, though it is probable that they will prove of great service later on in serving papers on women, especially the "high brow" variety, who resent the unwelcome attention of the average deputy.

BAR HIS WAY TO PROBATION.

UNCLE SAM MAY ATTEND TO STANDARD'S CASE.
National Banking Law Gives Right of Prosecution of Pomona Boy Wonder to Federal Authorities and Present Grand Jury May Be Asked to Bring the Indictment.

The impartial and unsparring hand of the United States government will shortly remove Earl Standard, defaulting financial wizard, from the ken of more dilatory prosecutors if preliminaries begun yesterday are realized in the direction now pointing. The fact that the bank he despoiled is under direct national supervision is likely, at the outset, to remove the playful Pomona embezzler from the jurisdiction of Pomona, and likewise the county and the State, and to place him in a dock from which the probation route offers no convenient way to the pall of whitewash. Under the present national banking law the claim of Uncle Sam on the boy wonder takes precedence of any local jurisdiction.

United States District Attorney McCormick intimated yesterday that it may even be before the Federal grand jury now in session that Standard may be brought to face steps toward an indictment. Dist. Atty. Fredericks gave it as his opinion that the government authorities alone have the right to prosecute the case. At the same time the county is prepared to take up the matter through the present grand jury if it can legally do so. The question will be positively settled today.

It is further intimated that the Federal investigation may not stop with merely looking into the peculations of Standard. The conditions making possible so long a series of undetected defalcations, until the entire surplus and half the capital stock of the bank was gone, are regarded as certain targets for inquiry of a searching character.

DIVORCES NOT SO EASY.

Hasty Marriage and Repentance Doesn't Necessarily Mean Hasty Legal Separation, Says Judge.
A hasty courtship plus a hasty marriage plus an equally hasty repentance doesn't equal a hasty divorce, according to Superior Judge Monroe. Instead, the thing works by the rule of the inverse ratio, whatever that is. There must be leisure some time, the court insists. So why not now?

The romance of Mrs. Kate Borders, as related to Judge Monroe yesterday, is thrilling.

She was wooed and won at long distance and married Frank Borders the first day she saw him.

She is 60 years old, and Borders is her second husband.

Within two months she was wooed, won, married and deserted.

She testified that mutual friend in Iowa knew Borders and a correspondence was begun with the man. He came to Los Angeles, met his bride-to-be at the depot, and they were married the same day. "I shall continue this case until September 30," the court said when Mrs. Borders's shattered romance had been related.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.
Spreyer & Company notified the Mayor yesterday that they will take all the bond issues at once instead of waiting till November 1, and embarking on the big campaign at the City Hall because the bank bonds are still nearly all in the hands of the engravers.
A Swedish laborer who was investigated into betting on a fake horse race won a judgment in the Superior Court yesterday against the All Night and Day Bank. The bank paid a draft for $1500 to one of the men who is alleged to have bunched the laborer.

SPEYER AND COMPANY ELECT TO TAKE ALL ISSUES.

Four Millions More in City's Treasury Next Month Than Expected, and All Anxiety Removed. Officials Worried About Getting Papers from Engravers.

Instead of having to wait until November 1 to know whether all the electric power and harbor improvement bonds will be taken up by Spreyer & Co. the city of Los Angeles is now on easy street financially, for Spreyer & Co. yesterday morning notified Mayor Alexander by telegraph that they would elect to take over all the bonds on the fifth of next month. This means that the city will have nearly $4,000,000 more in its treasury on April 5 than it expected to have, and also that the credit of Los Angeles is now at top-notch.

City Treasurer Hance, who is now in New York, has ready for delivery on the last day of this month harbor improvement bonds of the par value of $1,000,000 and electric power bonds for $1,500,000, constituting the first installment of the Spreyer & Co. purchase. The remainder of the bonds were to be taken over at sixty-day intervals up to November 1, but the firm had the option of electing to take them all at once, should they so notify the city. It is this option that they have exercised. This means that on April 5, Capt. Hance will deliver to the firm $1,500,000 of electric power bonds and $1,000,000 of harbor improvement bonds.

Yesterday Mayor Alexander called on City Clerk Lorn Handley for the blank bonds, and the clerk is now working on signing them. The name of George Alexander, Mayor, was signed 450 times and then there were more blank bonds. The stock on hand had run out. Handley will sign the 450 today. Dispatches were sent to the engraving company in Philadelphia to rush the blanks and it is expected that they will be here by next Thursday or Friday, when the work of signing will be resumed. As fast as the Mayor and City Clerk signatures shall be attached, the bonds will be forwarded by registered mail to Capt. Hance in New York, who will work over them in adding his own signature there.

STILL SLAPPING COUNCIL AND HARBOR.

Such a saucy report—that's what the City Council is going to receive next Tuesday from its Harbor Commission. Chairman Reed was engaged yesterday morning in dictating it and it bristles all over with disrespect for the harbor board. For example, there is the request of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce and the Federated Improvement Association for expedited action at the harbor.

"Any complaints as to delay in beginning work of constructing the harbor," says Reed's report, "are directed to this," should be directed to the Harbor Commission, which alone has the authority and is alone responsible for such delay.

Then Reed takes up the subject of the Harbor Commission's letter, in which the City Council was requested to attend to its own business and leave the harbor's affairs to the commission. Reed asks the Council to demand that the Harbor Commission explain just what public officials the commission considers are entitled to information as to the work at the harbor.

"We can readily understand that there are some cases where great secrecy may be necessary in carrying out the work of the harbor development," says Reed, "but we believe that the Harbor Commission exaggerates the necessity for such secrecy. We believe that the public officials would be better served if the board would follow a policy of taking the public into its confidence in all cases where secrecy is not absolutely necessary."

Reed is still indignant at the obstacles that he feels have been placed in the way of his getting information about the work at the harbor. He said yesterday that he could see no reason for keeping the public or public officials in the dark with regard to the city's rights in the Miner concession—rights that no one denied were fully and unquestionably the city's alone. The idea that the original plan for a 100-foot boulevard had been cut by two pieces since its adoption, he said, for example, was incorrect, for the line of the boulevard had been moved, that was all, and was shown plainly on the Carter Harbor Wharf and Dock Company's maps.

"What will you do if the Harbor Commission pays no attention to the Council's demand?" he was asked. "And what can the Council do?" "Nothing, I suppose," he replied, "but we can at least show the facts to the public and that is what we are doing."

CITY HALL SALE.

MAYOR STAYS VOTE.

The question of whether to sell the present City Hall and build a new one on the Temple Block site will probably be submitted to a straw vote at the special election at which other matters will be submitted. This will be done if Councilman Toppam has his way, and Councilmen Lusk and Andrews of the Street and Boulevard Committee yesterday agreed to the plan.

A delegation of a dozen women property-owners and voters from the North end appeared before the committee, but did not address it—nor they on the contrary, they remained seated in the lobby until they could catch hold of Councilmen Lusk and Whiffen's laps. These two have been strongest in opposition to the sale and they were the only ones who explained and explained and their questioners talked and talked, but finally the two got away.

The committee postponed action until next Thursday afternoon, but it is probable that the plan of a straw vote will be adopted. Chief Deputy City Attorney Robertson told the committee that he thought this could be done. Toppam drew attention to the fact that twice there has been a majority of the people in favor of this sale, but not enough to constitute the two-thirds vote required by law.

WATER REPORT COMING.

PUBLIC SERVICE POLICY.

The report of Chief Engineer Mulholland of the Aqueduct on the surveys and plans for the distribution of the water from the source will be ready, he said yesterday, for presentation to the Board of Public Service Commissioners next Tuesday afternoon. The board will go over it and it will be twice there has been a majority of the people in favor of this sale, but not enough to constitute the two-thirds vote required by law.

The Public Service board has decided on the policy of making no further extensions in the annexed districts of the present water system, but there is already an inadequate dependent service, until the board shall have considered the surveys that are now being made. The purpose of these surveys is to determine a plan for supplying all the new districts.

The board will not give out at present the main cause of the water conduit, as the City Attorney has advised it that publicity now would interfere with the purchase of necessary lands, the deeds for which have not yet passed.

Would Be a Precedent.

The City of Los Angeles will not adopt the policy of giving employees half their pay when injured in the service of the city. The matter came up before the Legislation Committee of the Council yesterday through a communication from the Board of Public Works stating that it was planning to pay half the salary of Charles W. Clifton, employed under the board, who was injured through no fault of his own. The board suggested that this be adopted as the policy of Los Angeles in all such cases. Without prejudicing the Clifton case, the committee decided that it would not such a policy would be to establish a bad precedent.

Health Appointments.

George L. Pierce, milk inspector, has sent his resignations to Health Commissioner Powers to take effect today. This is a civil service place and the Civil Service Board is to be asked to name candidates for the position. Health Commissioner Powers has appointed Mrs. A. J. Smith as emergency tuberculosis nurse.

City Hall Notes.

Because the railways will not allow their books to be examined without a struggle in the courts, Chief Deputy City Attorney Robertson yesterday advised the City Council to postpone action on the carfare reduction ordinance, proposed to be submitted to the people, until in open court the city has determined whether to hold a special election on the question or leave it to the next general election.

A petition from Wilmington to have two saloons there instead of one in zone No. 3 was sent by the Legislation Committee to the Council yesterday to the Police Commission for recommendation.

As the new traffic ordinance is expected to cover the matter of a zone of quiet around hospitals, recommended in a message from the Mayor, the Legislation Committee of the Council yesterday placed the message on file.

In a letter to the Council, the Standard American Dredging Company, explaining that "engineers" on clamshell dredges do not have to know all that a qualified stationary engineer must know, asked that the city do not have to take out licenses. The Building Inspector and the City Attorney have had the question submitted to the Council.

The city's authority over the breakwater at the harbor is to be settled by a pipe line, asked for by F. E. Fitzpatrick, shall be offered for sale.

VICTIM OF FAKE RACE WINS SUIT.

SECOND TRIAL REVERSES THE FIRST DECISION.

Laborer Sues Bank Which Paid a Draft to One of the Men Who Is Alleged to Have Engineered the Swindle—Bank Alleges Slip Was Deposited as Credit.

John G. Johnson, a Swedish laborer, who appears from the court record to have been the victim of a confidence game, recovered judgment from the All Night and Day Bank yesterday for $1500, the amount of a draft which the bank paid over to H. E. Dixon in August, 1910. Dixon is alleged to have been one of the men who inveigled Johnson to bet on a fake horse race.

Johnson brought suit against the All Night and Day Bank for the case was first tried before Judge Monroe, who gave judgment for the bank. Attorney Trask, representing Johnson, appealed to the Appellate Court, which reversed the lower court. A new trial was granted by Judge Dixon, sitting in Extra Sessions Three, and he gave judgment yesterday for Johnson.

In reviewing the case, which Attorney Trask says is one of the most remarkable he ever handled, the Appellate Court finds that the burden is certainly on the bank to show that the draft was deposited as a loan, and that the bank received the draft for collection as Johnson's agent on an agreement to deposit to his credit the $1500 and pay him the money.

The money which Johnson recovers was borrowed from a friend in Gregory S. Dask, who was deposited with the Corn Belt Bank and Trust Company. The alleged confidence men, who had rigged up a fake horse race at Redondo, and expected he would bring the money to Los Angeles, instead of which he produced a deposit slip. What they wanted was the money and they had little trouble inducing Johnson to draw on the South Data bank. The question fought out in the courts was whether or not Johnson had deposited the draft to the credit of the bank for collection. Johnson contended that this had been done and at the request of Johnson it had been duplicated deposit slip in the name of Dixon for collection.

HER RUDE AWAKENING.

HE'S BOARDER, NOT HUSBAND.

There was a rude awakening for Mrs. Emma R. Hargraves, who, after a brief honeymoon, discovered that instead of marrying a busy physician she had a gentleman of leisure on her hands to support.

In the divorce court yesterday the court severed the bonds that bound her to J. A. Hargraves. As she was leaving the courtroom, Judge Monroe called out:

"Just a minute, Mrs. Hargraves. I hope you will know a man in four months before you marry him."

"I certainly will," was the reply. Mrs. Hargraves is a fashionable dressmaker. When she was married, she seemed to possess the qualities of a soul mate. During the short courtship, the telephone at her home often rang with inquiries for "Dr. Hargraves. Occasionally Hargraves would phone her that professorial manner, and she would be coming from calling to see her.

After they were wedded her husband never seemed to realize from his "professional" practice, which was the bitter truth was forced upon Mrs. Hargraves that she had been deceived.

CURIOUS TANGLE.

COURT TO UNRAVEL WILLS.

The $50,000 Steinhardt estate, which came before Judge Bordwell yesterday and was submitted, presents a curious legal complication. Dr. Philip Steinhardt and his wife, Julia Steinhardt, made their wills on the same day in May, 1908. The former died July 2, 1909, and shortly afterward Mrs. Steinhardt became unconscious, dying July 4, without having regained consciousness.

Dr. Steinhardt left practically all of his property to his wife in trust during her life. At her death, half of the property was to be distributed among Dr. Steinhardt's relatives.

In Mrs. Steinhardt's will she gave her husband a life estate in her estate in the event of her death. The will contained a trust provision similar to that of the Steinhardt will, but she named her relatives as beneficiaries at her husband's death.

The relatives of Steinhardt now seek to compel the executor of the will to divide the property. They assert these relatives hold it under the trust provision. They also demand an accounting.

RAISES NEW POINT.

ATTEMPT TO TRY IT OUT.

A temporary judgment was granted by Judge Hutton yesterday restraining Louis M. Lusk from making a judgment obtained in Justice Young's court against Mrs. Hattie Morris. Attorney McDowell, representing Mrs. Morris, says the point involved has never been threshed out in the courts.

Mrs. Morris owns the Florence Apartments and other property. It seems that, after all, Mrs. Morris owed him $150 for certain services he is alleged to have performed for her in the Florence Apartments.

Hayley assigned his claim to Miss Lucia, who brought suit. Justice awarded McDowell's motion to set aside the judgment on the ground that it was for an injunction to prevent further proceedings under the judgment. He holds that notice of the time of trial was not properly served on Mrs. Morris or her attorney.

CITY LOTS HIGH.

VALUES TO BE FIXED.

A jury in Judge Craig's Court will fix the value of property in the western part of the city when it decides what the city shall pay for six lots desired as an addition to Agricultural Park. These lots are on Menlo and Hoover streets between Thirtieth and Ninth streets and Santa Monica street, and form a portion of the thirty-eight lots the city is condemning for park purposes.

The tremendous value of property in that part of the city evidenced by the prices property owners ask for the lots, these prices ranging as high as $112,000 for a single lot. Real estate experts were called by the city to give their values. The suit to condemn thirty-two lots was heard by Judge Craig yesterday, and probably announce his decision at the time the jury makes its return.

WANTS PLACE FILLED.

ORDER ON SUPERVISORS.

In order to compel the Board of Supervisors to fill the vacancy in the Horticultural Commission caused by the death of A. R. Meserve, A. R. Meserve, assistant to the board, was given the writ of mandate yesterday. The order to show cause was granted, made returnable in Judge Bordwell's court on the 26th.

Rideout is a Whittier nurseryman. He seeks to compel the Supervisors to appoint a successor to Meserve from the list of eligibles on file. Meserve was appointed Horticultural Commissioner by the state of California, and was selected after an examination before the State Board of Horticultural Commissioners, the other candidates having been Stephen Strong, Wood, Charles E. Bemis and Irving Dingle. Rideout is represented by Neighbors and Sprout.

BALDWIN ESTATE.

CLAIMS COMPROMISED.

Claims against the estate of E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin were settled in court yesterday on petition of Attorney Lusk, representing the executor of the estate.

John H. Temple's claim of $6000, constituting a loan made by his brother to Baldwin years ago, although barred by the statute of limitations, was compromised for $500. Temple also claimed a one-fourth interest in the Rancho Felipe Potrero de Lugo, an administrator of his brother's estate. The claim was disputed, the amount held being named as two and one-half acres. The claim was settled for $1500.

WIDOW LOSES FIGHT.

A vigorous attempt to break the will of a woman, who left her property to her seven children by her first wife and cut off his second wife with $10 because she had deserted him, was made yesterday. The court decided that the widow was of sound mind and admitted the will to probate. The widow will not endeavor to obtain the court's aid in the ground that it is separate property.

SEEKING HEIRS.

John Alexander Smith, formerly of this city, who died in Napa county in 1910, left considerable property and an effort is now being made to locate his heirs. County Clerk Leland has received a letter from John Cameron of the Veljevo Home, Napa county, asking him to discover if Smith has relatives living here with claims on his property.

UNIQUE FILING.

The application of the National Surety Company, as a surety on the bond of Carlisle Wynn was a unique document. Wynn was a unique document. Wynn was a unique document. Wynn was a unique document.

According to the grand jury report, the city of Los Angeles is unprotected by any bond and it is an optional matter with the V. D. Reduction Company to terminate its contract at any time and leave the city with the refuse on its hands.

"Continuing the grand jury finds: That the officials of the city of Los Angeles who have had charge of the matter of the disposition of this garbage since September, 1911, the city of Los Angeles, which have heretofore been paying $5500 a month for the collection of garbage, have been making the collections at an expense of $7500 a month. The garbage is taken to a loading station on the East Side near the corporate limits. Here it is taken by the V. D. Reduction Company and carried to the hog ranch.

"And further, it is the feeling of this grand jury that the members of the Board of Public Works of the city of Los Angeles merit the severest censure of the citizens of Los Angeles and Los Angeles county for their inaction in the face of this intolerable condition in not providing, in the period of eight months since the passage of the city ordinance, some means for the disposition of the city garbage."

The result of depositing about 100 tons of garbage per day, and the feeding and keeping of approximately 25,000 hogs on this ranch, created what the then acting grand jury termed a public nuisance, as being offensive to the citizens of Los Angeles, and being a menace to the public health.

"The grand jury finds: That the officials of the city of Los Angeles who have had charge of the matter of the disposition of this garbage since September, 1911, the city of Los Angeles, which have heretofore been paying $5500 a month for the collection of garbage, have been making the collections at an expense of $7500 a month. The garbage is taken to a loading station on the East Side near the corporate limits. Here it is taken by the V. D. Reduction Company and carried to the hog ranch.

A GOOD START.

Glendale is rapidly becoming a spot-land of parts. It has taken action to stamp out the last vestige of gambling in that vicinity and is also without saloons. Los Angeles gets the business.

THE WRETCH.

A robber at San Bernardino operates by borrowing money from widows through a play upon their affections. He should be hanged, electrocuted and guillotined, after which he should be buried, embalmed and cremated.

ALWAYS THE SAME.

The long arm of the law has reached young Earl Standard, the youth who embezzled a fortune from the American National Bank at Pomona. Sowing the wind and reaping the whirlwind is always a tragedy, and the unfortunate thing is that so many innocent must ever suffer with the guilty.

PLAIN FOOLS.

Two young men wiped out their grievances on the so-called field of honor in Mississippi and one was killed outright and the other fatally wounded. They were with two young women when the impromptu duel was fought, which was most ungalant of them, as it left their ladies without escorts home. Southern chivalry seems to be on the decline.

ORCHIDS.

A young man in the city wanted to present his lady with a modest birthday present and decided that a nice orchid plant would be about the proper expression of his delicate sentiments. He intended to go as high as $20 if it took that much to buy the right thing in orchids. When the florist told him that he could secure him a fairly nice plant for $1600 the young man ordered his Chinese gardener to import him a two-bit Spanish iris from a Japanese ranch at Coquina.

SCANDINAVIAN LITERATURE.

The Los Angeles library has secured and is now cataloging 100 Scandinavian books divided between the languages and authors of Denmark, Sweden and Norway. The consignment also contains a few books written by Icelanders. The Northmen have a wonderful literature, and the library board has deemed it only fair that those to whom these languages are convenient should be supplied with some of the great works of those countries. In the list are three books of Ibsen's plays, as well as the works of Strindberg, Ellen Key and others. The thoughtfulness of the library board in taking this action will be sincerely appreciated by Scandinavian patrons. The precedent, we imagine, is unique and one to be emulated by other cities.

QUAIL.

Every winter an immense covey of quail has had the run of Arroyo Seco and the hillside properties around it and never have they shown right at the sight of their human friends. People living along the Arroyo have often scattered crumbs to them and it was a common sight to see them feeding in a dooryard like chickens. This year, however, they have not been in sight and yesterday in a clump of eucalyptus trees, within 100 feet of the city limits, the writer met an exceptionally large quail in broad daylight. The presence of this quail probably accounts for the absence of our feathered friends. His method is doubtless like that of the hungry hawk that could find nothing but a sparrow for supper and so looked the sparrow in the eye to make it quail and then ate the quail.

TRACHEARY TO LA FOLLETTE.

The temporary physical breakdown of La Follette was seized upon by his treacherous backers as an excuse for presenting Roosevelt as the candidate of insurgent Republicans. The treachery was planned while La Follette was in perfect health and vigorously pursuing his campaign. United States Senator Gronna of North Dakota, in an interview at Minneapolis, said: "I was approached three weeks before the Philadelphia speech of Senator La Follette where he had his breakdown and asked if I would not join in a movement to bring Roosevelt out as a candidate. The invitation came from men who were supposed then to be for La Follette, but are now for Roosevelt, and it convinced me that they made all their plans some time ago. The Philadelphia incident was used only as an excuse, and the break would have come soon, anyway."

THE PHOENIX TEST.

Some of the farmers in Salt River Valley, watered by the Gato Tonto dam, are questioning the right of a government to place upon their lands the additional burden of construction work not specified in the original plans submitted to their association by Reclamation Service engineers. The right of the water user to know the plans for the development of the project which is to supply him and to know the approximate cost cannot be denied, but whether payments can be protested after the work is finished, when not protected during the process of work which may be in deviation of plans previously indorsed, is an open question. If a man has a contract with an individual for a given amount of work for so much pay, the contractor sticks to his text or is the loser. The farmers are also asking for an extension of time in which to meet the large water right assessments against their land. This request is sufficiently reasonable and it is to be hoped that they can be accommodated, regardless of what happens to their complaint of the price.

THE ROWELLS . . . HUH!

Who that has listened to the opera of "The Mikado" will not recall with delight the scene where Pooch Bah as Chancellor of the Exchequer, standing majestically at L.E., delivers an opinion allowing himself a large sum of money for his services. Then, striding to the center of the stage, as Attorney-General he reverses his ruler as Chancellor of the Exchequer, declares it to be unconstitutional and void, and expresses his great regret and chagrin that the Chancellor should be so blind to the calls of duty and so rapacious as to make such a ruling. Then he stalks to L.E. and as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court overrules the Attorney-General, declares that that official is destitute not only of a knowledge of law, but of integrity and common decency, affirms the original ruling of the Chancellor in his own behalf, and orders the money to be paid, with 20 per cent. additional because of the delay and unrighteousness of the Attorney-General.

The Pooch Bah of California politics is incarnated in the Rowell family. The elder Chester Rowell—"the Doctor"—is the owner of the Fresno Republican, and his nephew, C. H. Rowell the younger, is its editor. The elder Rowell is noted as being "Ever strong upon the stronger side; A Fortune's champion that doth never fight Save when her humorous ladyship is by To give him safety."

Uncle Chester, has a nose for majorities equal to that of a pointer dog for snipe. In predicting the political weather he beats the Weather Bureau to a frazzle. He sees that President Taft is the choice of the American people beyond a peradventure, and consequently he whoops it up for Taft, and sings—

"Hurrah for Uncle Bill! Hurrah for Uncle Bill!

When he's elected President there'll be of-fices to fill!"

And your Uncle Chester will try to control the appointment of postmasters and secure the government printing in the San Joaquin Valley. Yet, looking to the remote possibility of Roosevelt prevailing, and in order to stand well with Lissner et al., and not come in contact with the starboard pedonum of his Kicking Excellency, Uncle Chester winks at nephew "Chet" and turns his back while nephew Chet editorially commits the Fresno Republican to the support of Roosevelt. Then, when Roosevelt makes an ass of himself with his doctrine of popular reversal of Supreme Court decisions, Pooch Bah, the avuncular end of the Rowell combination, repudiates and reverses his nephew, but although he reverses him, does not spank him, and in strident phrases avers his devotion to Taft.

The situation is farcical to the public, but it is distressing to honest journalists who respect and honor their profession. Every newspaper man knows that the responsible proprietor of a newspaper controls its policy (unless he voluntarily surrenders that control), and that an editor who should abuse the confidence placed in him and surreptitiously advocate another policy, would be fired with certainty and celerity. Nobody cares for the utterances of Chet the younger. He resembles the character of whom Shakespeare wrote: "Look as I blow this feather from my face And as the air blows it to me again, Obeying my wind when I do blow, And yielding to another when he blows, Commanded always by the greater gust— Such is the lightness of this country man." The elder Chester has hitherto commanded some portion of respect from those who did not know him. That respect he has lost by his late political antic. A man who takes pains to proclaim himself a hypocrite, a traitor and a fraud will not be able to efface the brand he has placed upon himself. As to "Chet" the juvenile, way—huh!—he's simply hopeless.

EQUALITY OF OPPORTUNITY.

President Taft, in a brief afternoon speech to the students at the Armour Institute of Technology in Chicago, gave the boys some wholesome counsel. He admonished them to "be a bit slow about schemes to reform the world," and when a number of students arose to greet that sentiment with a chorus of college yells, President Taft said, "And be a bit slow about that, too, for I wish there was some other method of expressing approval than by college yells." Addressing the students the President said:

"I would not discourage you in your efforts toward progress. All I ask is that you apply the test of human nature. Progress always is being made wherever education spreads. Be optimistic, boys. Because you get folks don't think the whole world is against you. "One man doesn't make a multitude any more than one swallow makes a summer. The only thing the country can do is to make more perfect the equality of opportunity. The opportunity that comes to Americans today is greater than that which comes to any other people in the world. "Study how for last years the law and Constitution have worked and reason out why we have survived and shown the world that popular government is the most enduring. You will find after a while that it is best and is going to last. Another—Oh, I don't know how many years—because we have a people who know the advantage of self-restraint and who have provided against action by themselves under momentary impulse. That's what makes this country great. That's why I can tell the people the truth."

How much wiser, how much clearer, how much more helpful to the youth of the country is the advice of President Taft than the hysterical counsel of the African lion-hunter who urges a young man to marry before he is able to support a wife, to raise children whom he will be unable to properly educate, to give his voice and his vote for every crass and in politics that may be presented by socialist dreamers and to pass his time between elections in denouncing as minions of predatory wealth and slaves of special privilege all men who are inclined to mind their own business.

"Equality of opportunity." That is the everlasting rock foundation to which our fathers anchored this republic and upon which has been built the greatest, freest and most prosperous nation in all the world.

"Equality of opportunity." No bar of birth between the laborer's son and the President's son of creed between the law student and the ermine. No bar of caste between the day laborer and the Senator's seat. Fortune is upon the apex of the hill, but there is no toll gate erected by kings across the many roads that lead to the summit. Morgan or Rockefeller cannot crowd you out of your turn at the barber's shop or the postoffice, and you have no right to obtain one dollar of the money of a multi-millionaire unless you earn it or he gives it to you.

The Broadway Stare.

not crowd you out of your turn at the barber's shop or the postoffice, and you have no right to obtain one dollar of the money of a multi-millionaire unless you earn it or he gives it to you.

"Equality of opportunity." The poor farmer's son worked his way through Dartmouth College, and Daniel Webster linked his name to immortality. "The mill boy of the slasher" studied law in his cabin by the light of a tallow candle, and Henry Clay made a listening Senate tremble with his eloquence. Lincoln, the rail-splitter, became the greatest of our Presidents. Grant, the tanner, became the greatest of generals. Garfield, the canal boatman; Johnson, the tailor; McKinley, the school-teacher, each became President of the mightiest of nations. Edison, the telegraph operator, has filled the world with his fame. The President, and judges, and Senators, and generals, and inventors, and authors, and orators of this country are not being rocked in costly cradles by French maids; they are not dawdling in drawing-rooms. They are at work with hand labor or brain labor, each night knowing a little more, each day making a forward step toward fame or fortune.

"Equality of opportunity" dwells not in the palaces of Europe. It abides not under the shadow and shelter of thrones. Its birthplace and dwelling place is in this western land, and here it will live and grow in despite of the dreams of socialistic dreamers and the plans of moonbeam statesmen.

UNREST AND DISCONTENT.

No one can deny that a general wave of unrest and discontent has been sweeping across the civilized world. The discontent that awakens a desire for what is better and sounder is beneficial; the unrest that unsettles without affording relief is detrimental to true progress. But for good or evil this spirit is prevalent in the history-making of the twentieth century.

In spiritual affairs it is widespread and attracting much attention. An attempt is being made to combat the unrest by means of evangelistic revivals and spiritual forward movements, and to quiet the discontent by making religion more scientific and broader in its scope. This spirit will help or hinder the churches as they take advantage of it or fail to understand its trend.

Political unrest is ever more or less present and probably ever will be. In Mexico and China it has reached its extreme limits, ending in bloodshed and revolution and the overthrow of ancient dynasties. In Great Britain it has culminated in a semi-socialist government that has so far only unsettled the whole country and aggravated industrial turmoil. The present constitution of the German Reichstag shows this same spirit to be stirring strongly among the German people. America has felt the sweep of this restless tide, but it is already on the ebb. Voices crying in the wilderness are failing to attract desertward those who have a definite road to travel and a fixed star to guide them. Fireflies and will-o'-the-wisps are not for the earnest American who has a clear goal ahead of him.

Discontent with the adequacy of results achieved is finding expression among modern educators. In our colleges the classical and ornamental are subjugated to the practical, polytechnical and commercial. Germany's marked progress has resulted from her system of specialized trade schools and our own educators are beginning to take notice. For, while classical thinkers and men of pure scholarship will never fail to have their place in the world, the community today has more need of specialized tradesmen and practical craftsmen to carry on its great work. And for these a purely classical education is simply a white elephant.

Feminine discontent with conditions that have outgrown their usefulness is seen in the woman-suffrage movement and also in a general readjustment of old-fashioned ideas as to the relative standings of the sexes. The sexual unrest, however, where it manifests itself in an increasing number of divorce cases in any country, is an intemperate influence—a false light shining only to dazzle and betray. This unrest weakens the ties that bind the noblest traits both in man and woman.

Discontent, coupled with knowledge, has always acted as a necessary spur to mankind and produced conservative and rational progress. Unrest, provoked by ignorance, to unsettle beyond the hope of satisfaction, is a curse that holds back the honest reformer. For rest—rest—is the final prayer of every worthy fighter—the harder the combat, the more resolute the contestant, the sweeter should be the final rest.

They who prey upon the unrest that lies hidden in most human hearts, to stir up longings for the impossible or bitterness toward the world, are the enemies of the race. They who work and struggle to bring a truer peace and an easier restfulness for the mass of their fellow-beings are employing the spirit of discontent for the highest and weightiest purposes.

MISTAKES IN RELATIONS.

The entire city has been struck with pity and horror at the shooting and killing of a young business man by a young girl without the prelude, as far as has yet been revealed, of sordid and criminal features. The depths and subtleties of human relationships are never to be fathomed. Some people enter our lives like a storm and there is no peace while they remain with us. Their presence overshadows like a cloud. Others come with a blessing like the sunshine and their association becomes a part of the music of our lives. Finally, unto most of us, comes that one with an accompaniment of harp and either to the hymn of our lives. Comes also unto many the music of children's laughter. The blessed little people are like birds' song at noon and tender minutes at twilight, while their good-night is like sleigh bells under the stars.

It requires great wisdom and loyalty to choose and hold the right relationship among our fellows. Emerson says, "If we are related we shall meet," but in the pursuit of commonplace and selfish ends there is often a straining after relationship which makes false values and is the undoing of our lives. When people are able to attract our attention it is for a reason, and if we only possess the wisdom and patience to search our hearts and our own conduct, as well as the motives and manners of others, to find the answer to the attractions and dislikes we daily encounter, we would save ourselves much pain and sometimes earn limitless joy.

At a card table fictitious values are created in excess of all real worth. They are so far beyond the energy of the minute that they bring unnatural rewards and punishments as a result of baseless speculations. In our relations with one another we sometimes far exceed the energy of heart and brain and so are brought to grief. People must learn to walk as softly before their friends and loved ones as they walk before their enemies and before those by whom they are not understood. There must be maturity in friendship, even as one waits for the bloom of the rose and the fruit of a tree in its expected season. Life is not all wrong and humanity not all in confusion because a few persons wreck their lives through rashness and misunderstanding. Pessimistic conclusions are sometimes reached because the bitter experiences of the few are announced with an emphasis due to the very fact that they are exceptional.

Col. Bryan delivered an address before the Ohio Constitutional Convention. That body is becoming a regular Chautauqua lecture point.

CASUAL COMMENTS FROM THE WORLD OF LETTERS.

BY WILLARD H. WRIGHT.

Twenty more O. Henry stories! Thus come the tidings to me from Mr. Peyton Steger, one of the geniuses who direct the destiny of the Doubleday-Page Publishing House. For several months Mr. Steger has been traveling the southland unearthing Mr. Porter's literary remains. Twenty "heretofore unpublished" short stories are the result. After they have duly appeared in the magazines they will no doubt be published in book form. In Mr. Steger's letter there is even a hint of more stories to come. Let us hope so. O. Henry was probably the most strictly American fiction writer we have produced. His vulgarity, his lack of taste, his occasional provincialism, his lack of a cultured imagination typically reflected his environment. But he knew the American type and the American mind, and he knew our country and its institutions. And with all of this knowledge he made himself readable.

Let all those who prefer literature to best sellers rejoice in the republication of Theodore Dreiser's "Sister Carrie." The re-issuing of this book, after twelve years of uniform binding with "Jennie Gerhardt," makes us debtors to Harper Brothers. "Sister Carrie," at that time America's most vital and significant contribution to fiction, suffered a fate not unlike that of many another work of serious literary art. One of the largest publishing concerns in New York, after having the book set up in type, suddenly developed a timidity which resulted in its withdrawing the book from publication in America, where the critical intelligence was more highly developed than in America, hailed Dreiser as the most important of American novelists. Gradually this opinion took root in this country, and last year when "Jennie Gerhardt" appeared, America suddenly realized it was high time to consider this writer.

If we had any doubts as to the fact that William Dean Howells is our foremost man of letters, all such heretofore questionings would now be dissipated by the affecting symposium of letters published in the Boston Transcript last week. In this mighty array of critical observation all possibilities of Mr. Howells not being the greatest of all American novelists are done away with. Who are the authorities? An overwhelming and staggering array—Brander Matthews, Mary E. Wilkins Freeman, Henry Mills Alden, Florence Earle Coates, Henry Van Dyke, Robert Underwood Johnson, George Edward Woodberry, Alice Brown and Bliss Perry. But there is one name lacking in this mighty sanhedrin—one heaven-kissing seer of erudition, one Alpine heap of classic brains, one dreadnaught of critical sapience. That was Hamilton Wright Mable when the oratorio was on?

Indignant inquiry from a lady literary reviewer of the South: "In Mr. Carnegie's list of the world's ten greatest writers, where was there not a woman mentioned?" A difficult and a delicate query, to be sure.

The translucent ears of the dramatic censors are no doubt pricking up, as it were, at the announcement that "The Corn Law" is to be given a theatrical production. The girl from Rector's, as well as the one in the taxi and the one with the whooping cough, will assume modest, delicate aspects if that bodor-bathing scene with the "inimical" lace garments of Mr. Chambers' heroine is staged.

The first two copies of "The Poetry Review," published at the St. Catharine Press, 34 Norfolk street, Strand, London, W.C., has just reached me. It strikes me as a risky and a bold adventure. But its motive is most commendable. Its well-printed pages are devoted to the criticism and appreciation of modern poetry of all countries. The first two numbers set a fine pace and are marked by a freedom of thought admirable in the extreme. Let us make "The Poetry Review" welcome and hope for the best.

The following statement from "The Way with the Nerves" (Putnam) by Dr. Joseph Collins, the eminent neurologist, offers an excellent antidote to the pathological arguments of the well-meaning but meagerly advised prohibitionists: "Any one who amounts to anything cannot be frightened into abstaining from alcohol. There are no real incontestable facts to show that the so-called idiopathic nervous and mental disorders are caused by parental alcoholism. Furthermore, I do not believe that anything is to be gained from statistics as they have been collected in the past. Aside from one nervous disease, multiple neuritis, and two or three well-defined varieties of insanity, there is not the slightest demonstrable evidence that such a statement is true"—namely, that alcoholism is a potent factor in the causation of nervous and mental diseases. A statistical case in point is the terrifying figures of the teetotalers that 41 per cent. of the 25,000 idiots, imbeciles and epileptics in the Bicetre Hospital in Paris were of drunken parents. The statement was true; but it was also true that per cent. of them had parents that were total abstainers! Dr. Collins is evidently a dangerous marplot.

Psychology of Digestion. (Ohio State Journal.) Prof. Loudon told his audience at the Psychological Society meeting Sunday afternoon that dieting and fasting will not cure digestive troubles, but that exercise, pure food, and a good frame of mind will. It is noticed that there is not a pill or powder in the professor's prescription. The basic idea of his remedy is embraced in three words—faith, work, simplicity. They go together like the three dimensions of a cube. Now it will be noticed that the professor's prescription is not good for the stomach and the liver only, but for all the bodily functions—for the brain, the nerves, the kidneys, the lungs, the bones, etc. It is nature's gentle voice to the wayward appetite and the lazy digestive tract, live on sunshine, outside and inside; on the street and in the heart. The sunshine made the world, and all that is in it, the heavens and all the stars, and in the heaven to come the atmosphere will be sunshine, and in this world it will make the good "fruits of mind." Now the professor speaks of. We heartily commend the prescription.

(Puck.) Success, generally speaking, is the science of leaving just as little as possible to chance.

I'd like to hark to the bellows of a cover a guiding spirit of Glencairn over the ice and out of there came the coyote's howl.

I'd like to hear the crackling of the boys rode into town. And, just for the sake of definition, I'd like to see the boys.

I'd like to go back, but I guess I can't. Things have changed around me. And I am doomed to grin and sweat at traffic's rassy sound.

I'd like to go back, go way, way back, throw the rope again. And "hog-tie" those more "improbable breezy, open plains."

I'd like to sing the flank of a cow brand of "101."

And see the critter morn and morn and then go on the run!

I'd like to hark to the outfit going "Wild Bill's Lament."

When we gathered round the pianist of our efforts of sincere appreciation were also presented by a beautiful friend, Miss Schramm.

I'd like to go back, go way, way back, the things I'd like to see. And the things that duty told me to do. How don't quite agree.

The range is gone and the boys are out the prairie now. And down on the "101" they're morn, I trow!

The round-up's gone and the boys are hanging upon the wall. And never a hungry voice.

"Cookee!" welcome out. And so I say, I'd like to go back, when I, a tad, Rode over the range on a horse along with my old dad.

THE WOMAN'S LORIE CLUB will be in its second concert of the season Friday evening, March 15, at the Auditorium.

The club will be assisted by Mr. Marcel Meier, violinist and Mrs. Catherine Collett, pianist.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Edward Darlington Jones,

Formerly Miss Ona Rogers of Santa Barbara, whose wedding Tuesday in the northern city was of widespread interest to friends in this city.

THE wedding of Miss Katherine Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Clark, and Wilfred Keefe, son of Mrs. Bernard Keefe, of the late John F. Keefe, prominent railroad man of the East, of El Estero, last evening, was one of the most auspicious events of the winter season.

Rev. Dr. William Horace Day, pastor of the First Congregational Church, was the officiating clergyman, and a special musical program was rendered by the choir. The ceremony was held at the Clark family home, No. 9 St. James park, in the living room, before an altar of peach blossoms and Killarney roses.

Miss Katherine, on the arm of her father, entered wearing a handsome gown of white satin and rose point. This was finished with a tulle veil and a long square train embroidered in silver roses. She carried lilies of the valley.

Miss Lucy Clark, the bride-elect's sister, was maid of honor. She was attired in white chiffon embroidered in silver roses. The bridesmaids wore over white satin, made empire effect. A silver basket filled with daisies was carried. The Misses Hazel and Mary Sherman, daughters of Gen. M. H. Sherman and cousins of Miss Clark, acted as bridesmaids. They wore daisy creations of lace net, embroidered in pink roses and lilies, and carried silver baskets filled with pink roses. Miss Clark's gown was of black and white tulle, embroidered in silver roses.

Archer Barnard was best man and Dr. Henry Owen Eversole and Robert Pierce Sherman carried long ribbon streamers which they passed to Miss Gwendolen Laughlin, Miss Helen Wells, Miss Clara Vickers, Miss Katherine Dashford, Mrs. Stuart Salisbury and Mrs. William Graves, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bradley Wheeler, Miss Clara Vickers, Miss Gwendolen Laughlin, Miss Helen Wells, Miss Ines Clark, Miss Katherine Dashford, Miss Audrey Wells of Berkeley, Dr. Henry Owen Eversole, Eugene Clark, who by the way returned from New York for the wedding and surprised his family; Thomas B. Owen of San Francisco, Bernard Wells of Berkeley, Roy Naffziger, Edward Currier, James Page, Irving Walker and Phil Lindley.

Mr. Barnard will take his attractive young bride to Fort Bay in New Mexico, where they will remain four months before returning to Los Angeles.

Interesting Wedding. The wedding of Miss Ona Rogers, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Rogers of Santa Barbara, to Lieut. Edward Darlington Jones of the United States revenue service, on last Tuesday morning, was one of the important events of the winter season in the Channel City, and of especial interest to San Francisco and Los Angeles society folk, where both of the contracting parties are well known.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride, Rev. William Cross Merrill, pastor of the Congregational Church officiating. Following the wedding the couple left for Coronado, where they are to remain a fortnight, and returning to Santa Barbara for a day, will proceed East.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE

"Mignon" (Thomas), Mrs. L. J. Selby, "Eastern Song" (Daniels), obligato, Mr. Marcel Meier and Lowry Hester Meier, "The Gypsy" (Brahms-Sheley), "The Snow" (Edwards), obligato, Mr. Marcel Meier and Lowry Hester Meier.

The dear old classical dictionary—an excellent ornament for any bookshelf—is going to have the dust knocked off its covers during the coming week. Already in the street cars and library centers we hear in bated breath the words "What is a Faust?"

It was held, among the Romans, to have the power of foretelling the future. In latter times he was immortalized like all other Italian gods and was said to have just been a brave king, greatly devoted to agriculture—the son of Pious and the father of Lullus. The sacred writers made his shape half-human and half-like a god, but Mr. Knoblauch, makes the Faust a very real person; but then, you know, he is a dramatist with a lively imagination.

The humor of the young dramatist's play comes from the introduction of a Faust into modern everyday life and surroundings—a fruitful theme, surely. The sale of seats for Mr. Faversham's engagement in "The Faust" at the Majestic next week will open this morning.

Bliss Jank, America's favorite comedienne, will come to the Mason Opera House next Monday night for a week's stay, presenting her latest and perhaps her greatest success, "The Slim Princess," a funny musical comedy based on one of George Ade's imitable stories on life in the Ottoman Empire. Henry Blossom is the author of the libretto, and Leslie Stuart, composer of "Florodora," is responsible for the music, which is said to have most wonderful appeal.

"The Slim Princess" tells the story of a Turkish girl of noble birth who has great difficulty in finding a husband because of her slender figure, for in Turkey avoidfulness is one of the hall marks of beauty and attractiveness. There are great opportunities in "The Slim Princess" for clever character delineation, scenic beautiful costumes and exquisite investiture.

Surrounding the play is a company of eighty, headed by Joseph Cawthorn, perhaps one of the best known comedians in the country. Miss Jank's engagement in "The Slim Princess" next week will be her first visit to Los Angeles.

Announcement is made by Charles B. Kavanaugh, manager of the Grand Opera House, that Walter DeLeon's new musical comedy, "The Girl and the Boy," will be continued for another week, starting with matinee on Sunday.

This will make the fifth consecutive week that Farris Hartman and his excellent company have presented "The Girl and the Boy," at the Grand.

Henry W. Savage's production of Alexander Blason's powerful drama, "Madame X," with Adeline Dunlap in the title role, is attracting large audiences to the Majestic Theatre, where it will continue until Saturday night. This will probably be the last opportunity to see this rather sensational play, as Henry W. Savage has announced his intentions of withdrawing it from the road at the close of the present tour.

Cliff Berner's famous comedy circus, of which the bucking mule, "Maud," has long been a feature; the ball players, members of some of the leading baseball organizations, together with the "modern" minstrel show, Harry W. Foss, will be the three features of the Sullivan & Connelley bill opening at the Empress Theatre next Monday afternoon. "Berners' circus" will no doubt be favorably remembered by local audiences, by reason of the uncommonly big hit which it scored at the Empress last year and the musical act, "Twenty Minutes in the Clubhouse," from start to finish, with baseball songs, baseball facts and other material that is bound to delight an audience.

Harry Van Foss has appeared here before on the Empress stage with his vaudeville "burnt cork" fun, and others on the new bill will be the Princess Luba Miroff in a novel Russian dance, and the musical act, Albert Donnelly, the expert hand shadowist; Kitty Rosa, the girl from Alabama, and the new comedy motion pictures.

The current bill is proving most attractive, and capacity audiences is the rule.

Coming next week, the Orpheum announces as its head-liner Pouchet's flying ballet, one of the biggest spectacular acts it has yet had the pleasure of offering. In fact, the mechanism is being placed this week in order to have it ready by Monday. This act is not simply one of a bunch of girls floating about in mid-air at the end of a wire; the participants not only simulate flying with gorgeous costumes, but they do intricate dance evolutions in mid-air; they sail far out over the audience scattering flowers, and making living perches for flocks of doves, and they execute dancing designs by means of floating figures that make the whole act stand apart from anything of its sort. In fact, it is covered by patents and imitations are impossible.

Harry Beresford and his company will present "In Old New York," a fine little story of the East Side; Julius Tannen will "chatterbox" his way along, and Ida O'Day will present a charming comedy, "Betty's Best." Walter Hampden in "Blackmail" will be here another week, as will Burnham and Greenwood in the old musical act, "Thurber and Madison and Millet's 'Models'."

One of the prime favorites of the Pantalone circuit is scheduled for a return visit next week. Ford Wyckoff, known all the way from Portland, Ore., to Portland, Me., as "The Mayor of Tanktown," will renew old acquaintances. Wyckoff is one of the best-lit men in vaudeville, both by audience and managers. His quaint jokes about "Tanktown" and his homely songs about "My Wife and Me" are never twice the same. No matter how often he comes back, he invariably brings something new. Managers like Wyckoff because his songs and stories never require censorship. His monologue is clean and wholesome fun that appeals to everybody.

Undetermined Whether Dramatic Conspiracy Investigation Will Be Continued Now. The Federal grand jury will resume its investigations today but whether the last phase of the dynamite case, involving the refusal of W. H. Fishman, business agent of the Structural Ironworkers' Union at Seattle to answer certain questions, will be taken up at this time, is undetermined.

Oscar Lawler, special prosecutor in the investigation, left San Francisco for the East Tuesday, according to a dispatch from the northern city. It is believed Lawler will consult with United States Atty.-Gen. Miller at Indianapolis. He will be away about three weeks.

Lawler went to San Francisco to re-litigate the efforts of Trelvone and the other laborites to delay their removal to Indianapolis, where they are to plead to the indictments charging them with having conspired against the government.

Are You Walking Around Just Half Alive?

If you are, you have company, though it's a miserable state to be in. No one really wants to live that way, but they don't know how to get the "other half" awakened up. Your stomach needs cleansing and toning so you can eat and digest good food.

Your liver needs to be made to act properly, furnishing the bile for digestive purposes.

Your bowels must move regularly, thoroughly without drastic purging. Your kidneys must be normal. No one can be a "live one" unless these organs are acting as nature intended them to do.

If You Order Now—At Once

A shipment of 90 pieces of spring suitings sent to one of the high-rent, high-price tailors of this city was refused by them because the mills had made such a low price on the goods that they wanted spot cash for them. They were a specially ordered, specially woven line, only one suit to a pattern. The high rent tailors were long on fancy fixtures, but short on cash. They couldn't handle the shipment. And so we stepped in and for spot cash bought the whole 90 pieces for 40 cents on the dollar.

We've never had a higher quality shipment come into the store. While they last, the price is $14.50, no more, no less. Get yours early.

DIVISIONS ALONG PROPOSED NATIONAL HIGHWAY

PILOT CAR STARTS TODAY.

Good Roads Slogan for Santa Fe Trailers.

"The Times" to Send Motor Across Continent.

Campaign to Be Started in Southland First.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock, Gen. Harrison Gray Ots will give the starting signal which will send The Times pathfinder automobile on its long journey eastward over the old Santa Fe Trail across the continent.

The car will start from in front of The Times office.

With the official sanction of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Association, the car will be a peaceful Paul Revere to rouse the people in "each village and town" along the route of what will some day be the greatest roadway ever built by the hands of men.

This tour is not to be a record run. It is not a route-blazing or a pathfinding tour.

It may take several months for the car to reach its journey's end, but as The Times automobile proceeds, divisions will be held and the name of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway will be emblazoned, not only on the desert sands, but in every state and county along the Santa Fe trail.

Citizens of Southern California have asked that divisions be formed in every city and town. Their request is to be heeded.

Under the direction of President Mitchell the car will be sent to the points of vantage along this end of "the trail," and before the car leaves California at least a hundred links should be formed in the strong chain that is to reach across the United States.

As The Times car is driven from city to city Secretary Conwell will arrange for meetings in advance. The officials of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway will map out the work.

The car's first stop will be made in Alhambra tonight, where a new division of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Association will be formed.

John S. Mitchell, as president of the association, and J. S. Conwell, as secretary, will be honored guests and messengers in the car, and will officiate at the birth of the new division at Alhambra tonight.

COSTER WINS ONE.

NEW YORK, March 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Joe Coster of Brooklyn was too fast and clever for Young Shugro of Jersey City and outpointed him by big margin in a ten round bout at the National Sporting Club tonight. In addition to his good judgment in planning blows, Coster's defense was practically impenetrable. Coster earned the honors in every round. Young Shugro was substituted for Billy Marchant of England, who had agreed to fight Coster.

RAYNE WINS EASILY.

Jack Rayne had little trouble last night in beating Jimmy Pearne at three omissions in the tourney now going on at the Brunswick room on West Fourth street. The score was 40 to 25 in twenty-two rounds, which is an average of more than one-half. Rayne's high run was three, while Pearne made four. This evening Morse and Davidson are to play.

OLYMPIC GAMES CIRCUS BOOMING.

The Olympic Games Committee reports that everything is going well for the big Olympic Games Circus, which is to be held in this city March 29, 30 and 31. All the local athletes are interested, and some novel stunts are down on the programme during the six performances. The idea of the circus is to raise funds for the Olympic games so that the southern athletes will have a chance to try out for the national team, which will represent Uncle Sam on foreign soil.

The 101 Ranch outfit, which will take care of the circus end of the affair, is rapidly getting into trim for the big opening. The 101 Ranch boasts some fast athletic teams in indoor baseball and pushball, and will meet the local athletes in several match contests.

One of the features of the circus will be the boxing contests staged by De Witt Van Court, director of the Los Angeles Athletic Club knights of the squared circle. He has a programme of events covering some of the best amateur and professional men in the South. Joe Rivers will be the official referee of the bouts, and Jim Jeffries will act in the same line, and may box an exhibition of three rounds with his brother, Jack, on the evening of the last performance. All interested in the advancement of the local athletes are urged to lend a helping hand to the movement, as this is the chance to show.

HIGH LIGHTS IN WHITE'S RECORD.

Draws with Johnny Kilbane, Tommy Kilbane, Chuck Larsen, Sammy Trott, Tommy Dixon and Bayo Driscoll.

Won from Johnny Kilbane, Tommy Kilbane, Eddie Dennis, Patsy Kline and Tommy Dixon.

Lost to Johnny Kilbane and Joe Mandot.

Knocked out Battling Jordan, Tommy Barrett, Blis Mackay, Eddie Carney, Sammy Trott, Joe Homeland, Tommy Gary and Tommy Brenahan.

Has fought four times with Johnny Kilbane; won once, drew once, no decision once and lost once.

JOE RIVERS'S BRIEF RECORD.

Frankie Sullivan, knockout, nine rounds.

Danny Webster, knockout, thirteen rounds.

Jimmie Reagan, knockout, thirteen rounds.

Johnny Kilbane, won, twenty rounds.

George Kirkwood, draw, four rounds.

Tommy Dixon, won on foul, sixteen rounds.

Joe Koster, knockout, thirteen rounds.

George Kirkwood, knockout, eight rounds.

Frankie Conley, draw, twenty rounds.

Johnny Kilbane, lost, knockout, sixteen rounds.

Joe and Jack.

VAN COURT'S TECHNICAL COMPARISON OF FIGHTERS.

BY DE WITT C. VAN COURT.

JOE RIVERS and Jack White meet in their scheduled twenty-round fight tomorrow afternoon at Vernon. Both boys are in fine condition, better than they have ever been, if we can believe what they say.

Each is clever and each is a good hitter with either hand. The weight is equally good for each.

This makes it a hard fight to pick. White has had more experience than Rivers, but his contests have been principally limited to six and ten-round bouts.

Rivers, on the other hand, has had virtually all finish fights. Twenty rounds comes very near being finish fights these days.

While White has a good record it does not compare with that of Rivers. Most of Rivers's fights have been won by knockouts.

Yet White is credited with being a good hitter.

HAS JOE PAPER JAW?

There is a question about Rivers being able to stand a hard punch on his jaw, if Jack is clever enough to land it. While Joe did not withstand the punch he got from Johnny Kilbane, it was owing more to his weakened condition than anything else. He was also dropped good and hard by George Kirkwood in San Francisco, but Kirkwood will drop anybody he can hit on the jaw.

Joe has been making a constant improvement in his fighting ever since he has been fighting at a weight that suits him. White has had about seventy fights and is about as clever as he will ever be. Still there is that question of difference of opinion as to who will win. Many of the wise betters say that they will take the White end of it.

About the only way to pick winners is to judge the men by what they have done in the past. Compare records, conditions, hitting and cleverness and experience.

Joe Rivers, Ring Genius.

This picture shows the furious, half-regretful expression that Little Joe always wears in the ring. White, with his frightful punch, is the most dangerous boy Rivers ever met.

Ladies' Day.

THEY GAMBLE ON GOALS WITH PLAYERS AS PAWNS.

CORONADO (Cal.) March 14.—Women had their way at Coronado this morning. Early in the day they began demanding that the Coronado-San Mateo match, which was to decide for the California trophy be postponed, and the round robin, scheduled for tomorrow, be played this afternoon.

Their wishes were finally followed and sixteen players, divided into four teams, took part. A pool was made up. It contained $745.

Tom Driscoll, one of the players, was bought at auction by Mrs. J. D. Cady. He was bid in at $165 and proved to be the greatest number of goals. He scored four times.

Six matches of two periods each were played. The team composed of Carlton Burke, K. Snowden, S. H. Velle and Lord Treadmouth scored eight goals.

Late tonight it was definitely agreed that the match between San Mateo and Coronado to decide for the California trophy shall be played at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. An effort is now being made to arrange a match between the English team and the Canadian team, to bring the tournament to a close Saturday afternoon. The English players had arranged to leave tomorrow but may be prevailed upon to remain over for Saturday's match.

ANGEL BOWLERS LEAVE.

Team from This City Goes East After Championship Laurels in Chicago Tourney.

At 10 o'clock this morning the Los Angeles investment bowling team will leave for Chicago, where they are booked to appear in the international congress on the night of March 20.

The local team holds the world's championship and their record stands 250 points over the present congress leaders, the Germanias of Port Wayne, who stack up at 2845.

During the past fourteen months the value of their prizes has aggregated more than $7000. They have won two western bowling tournament championships, and four California championships, never having been defeated in an open tournament.

Ballard and Taylor won the Western Bowling Congress doubles in San Francisco in 1910, and third in Los Angeles in 1912. Taylor won the "all events" in Los Angeles in 1912.

Schaeffer captured fifth place in the singles, there being 300 entries in Los Angeles, 1912. Ballard won seventh place in the singles from 300 entries. Sciple and Schaeffer won fifteenth place in the doubles from 250 entries. Ballard got second high score in 1911 in the tournament of California, averaging 190; also fourth place in 1912, averaging 190. Sciple got second high in 1912 in the tournament of California, averaging 183.

The boys who will make the trip are Ballard, Taylor, Platt, Sciple, Schaeffer and Gilman. They are entered in the five-men matches, the doubles and in all the individual contests.

While in the "Windy City," the Los Angeles bowlers will meet the Pieners and the Chicago Athletic Club team; and on their return trip, will be matched with the best teams in St. Louis, Kansas City and Denver.

ON THE GREEN.

The pool play at the Bankers' Club for the Dieter cup is bringing out some classy cue action. J. A. Nickel, the clever bank artist, and K. G. Wessman are slated to give W. E. Finney a fast run for the coveted piece of silverware.

The first series of the tournament was played out last night, Finney winning the first count. There are to be seven series in the tournament, and the finals will be composed of the winners of these rounds, who will fight it out for the club championship.

SHORTSTOPS NEEDED.

Both local teams may take on new shortstops, but that is about the only position where I see that there is a chance for new ones to break in. The outfielders and basemen of both teams seem to be making good with the managers. Dillon may keep an understudy as a first baseman, and surely retain Driscoll as a utility outfielder. However, it is too early yet to guess on what men will be kept, but it is a cinch that at least five, and probably ten men from each team will be farmed out or released.

As Jack White Fights.

This remarkably vivid snapshot was taken while he was shadow-boxing. White has just swung with his right and his terrible left is coming.

FRIDAY MORNING.

Mr. Wad Thought That He Could Find Peace on Top of Mt. Wilson in the Snow--But He Didn't!

Look Out, Hap.

McCREDIE IS LIABLE TO WIN ANOTHER PENNANT.

Winnie Cutter, Sacramento's Former Pitching Star, Gives to the Pink Sheet His Candid Opinion of This Year's Beaver Team as Compared With That of 1911. It's Still a Wonder.

BY WINNIE CUTTER.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SANTA MARIA, March 14.—I asked McCredie today what he thinks of this year's Portland team as compared with the pennant winners of last year. He stopped a moment to look up at a new glove, then he looked up at me, and said, "Looks good to me," was all. But that is such a lot when you come from McCredie.

Coming from a training season, McCredie, at the Port-1911 and 1912 clubs, the fact that he is a former pitcher of the Coast league teams must be a factor in his opinion. McCredie has a nucleus from last year's team to build around, and he has to face the drawback of having a new machine, which is a disadvantage. McCredie is a former pitcher of the Coast league teams, and he is a former pitcher of the Coast league teams.

WHIFFS FROM THE OLD SPORT BIPE

J. A. Hart, former owner of the Chicago Cubs who is visiting in Riverside, says that, while baseball is not a trust, "club owners are money mad." Mr. Hart probably owned the Cubs just for love.

Michael McDermott has reduced his own national record of 2:43.5 for the 220-yard breast stroke, making the distance in 2:30.

"Kid" Scaler of Spokane says he is matched to fight Abe Attell at Coeur d'Alene, May 15.

Chas. T. Weyman who won the international aviation cup for this country in England last year will be invited by the Aero Club to head the American team of defenders. Weyman has never flown in the United States, being a resident of France.

Cops, owned by Thomas P. Thorne, won the Prix Cresentin, a selling steeple chase of $500 at Autuill yesterday.

The damage suit that Abe Attell was under promise to bring against Jim Buckley seems to have failed to materialize. If Abe expects to be given the benefit of the doubt by the American people he must come through with that suit and make his bluff good.

LIFE OF MOTOR CAR.
Many Machines of Earliest Day Are Still in Use—Premiers Last For Years on Rough Roads.

How long is the life of a motor car? That is a question that frequently has been asked, and which has never been correctly answered. This is because motor cars have not been with us long enough to see how long one will last. Many of the first cars were made in this country and Europe are still in active service, and if these pioneer vehicles will continue to perform satisfactorily it is only reason to assume that the latest model of a standard car will last a lifetime.

He also expresses the firm belief that he will run it a 150,000 miles farther, which, at the present rate, would bring him and the car up to 1913. Even then the Gragg car should not be at the end of its career. Mr. Gragg states that the chassis of his car is as good today as the day it was purchased. The chassis will outlive the body, and when the original body has been worn out another can be substituted, either a motor car body or that of a delivery wagon. According to Mr. Gragg's statement, his 1906 Gragg car has never been surpassed. It has never been idle since, and it is the intention to keep it moving.

HIG AUTO SALON.
New Departure Expected to Be Biggest Event in Indianapolis Motoring Annals.

The big automobile circus that is to be held under canvas over the streets on three sides of University Park, March 23 to 30, without exception will be one of the biggest and most important events in Indianapolis motoring annals. The show organization is now hard at work on the details of the pageant and everything points to success. The canvas, which will be rented for the occasion, is said to be the biggest ever made, not excepting the biggest circus canvas.

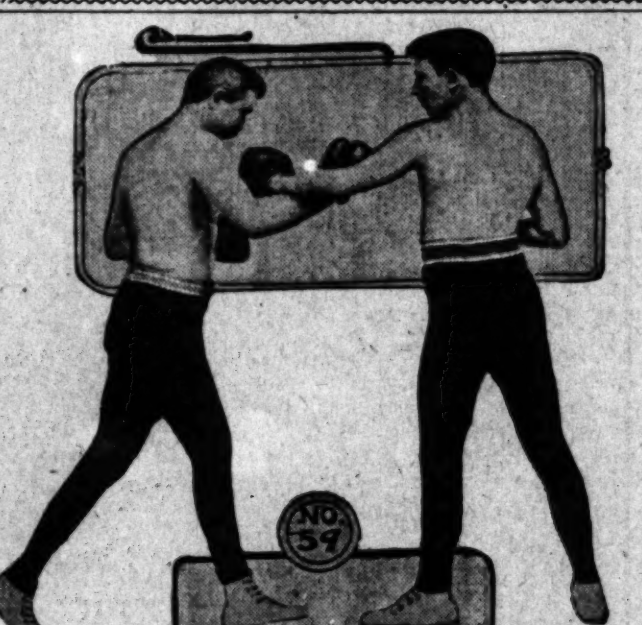

Already all the show space has been sold and practically all the manufacturers of Indianapolis, Ind., and the remainder of the country will be represented. The Indianapolis automobile show is expected to attract thousands of visitors to this city from Indiana and adjacent States. J. J. Orman, the Premier Motor Manufacturing Company, has been appointed general manager of the tented show.

MANY MACHINES.
According to the report of the Ohio State Registrar of Automobiles to January, 1912, 19,943 automobiles were registered by private owners, an increase of 1,943 over the previous year.

YANNIGANS GET ONE.
The Vernon Yannigans went over to the Occidental grounds yesterday afternoon and played a little game with the Oxy boys and won by a score of 7 to 5, with about 100 fans looking on.

Cummings, Wells and Rieseberg pitched for the Yannigans, and managed to hold the college boys down very well. There were no starting features to the game. Harry Stowman managed the team and naturally feels very much swelled up over the victory of his colts.

Van Court's Boxing Lesson.

No. 59—Guard for a Right-Hand Uppercut.

This blow is generally used by awkward boxers, and makes a great flourish, but seldom lands. When your opponent swings a right-hand uppercut, simply hold the left hand well out, turning the palm of the hand down, and his blow will strike your arm. Hit at his head with your right hand.

Crowds Spellbound.

SUN AND THRILLS MAKE PERFECT DAY AT RODEO.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA carried off the honors again at the annual rodeo for Los Angeles and their State yesterday afternoon, in the third day's Rodeo great southwestern interstate cowboy and cowgirls contests, at the "Lucky" Baldwin rancho, Santa Anita.

No more exciting competitions than those of yesterday have preceded that programme. Rivalry was at high tension, and conditions for the contests were perfect.

The cowgirls' pony race, which opened the afternoon's sport, was a hotly contested event, and as the California girls' jockeyed their splendid mounts into the stretch and they flashed under the wire, the applauding uproar that ensued from the grand stand was deafening.

Again, when the cowboys standing horse race was run, with one rider standing on three horses for the half-mile mad gallop pandemonium ensued and the official announcers' voices could not be heard for many minutes. Official decisions as handed down by Judge J. H. Stephens, Tank Creek, Ariz., Oscar Roberts, Sam Simon, Ariz., George C. Ruffner, Prescott, Ariz., F. Howard, Denver, Col., and Louis Rico, Los Angeles, follow:

Event No. 1, Cowgirls' pony race, half mile, saddles weighing not less than 20 pounds, ten entries; time, 44 seconds. First, Hazel Hoxie, Idaho; second, Hazel Hoxie, Idaho; third, Hazel Hoxie, Idaho; fourth, Hazel Hoxie, Idaho; fifth, Hazel Hoxie, Idaho; sixth, Hazel Hoxie, Idaho; seventh, Hazel Hoxie, Idaho; eighth, Hazel Hoxie, Idaho; ninth, Hazel Hoxie, Idaho; tenth, Hazel Hoxie, Idaho.

Event No. 2, stake race, contestants riding horses first to right and then to left of stakes set fifty feet apart, option will be one of the fastest and most important events in Indianapolis motoring annals. The show organization is now hard at work on the details of the pageant and everything points to success.

Event No. 3, cowgirls' fancy roping contest, on foot, choosing own rider or riders, each contestant roping two days, decided on number of catches displayed—First today, Bertha Blanche, Los Angeles; second, Hazel Hoxie, Edendale; third, Mrs. Jack Creek, Nevada.

Event No. 4, cowboys' relay race, four days, riders with chaps, hooded purses and saddle weighing not less than twenty-five pounds, four horses and two assistants, riders saddling, unsaddling, mounting and dismounting—First, Dell Eagles, Missouri; second, William David, Edendale, Cal.; third, Earl Simpson, Los Angeles.

Event No. 5, cowgirls' maverick race, wild steer given 100 feet start of rope—Bertha Blanche, Los Angeles, 1:40.

Event No. 6, team roping contest for championship of Southwest, two men to a team, steer having sixty feet start of ropes, one rope to head or horns and one to hind foot, teams who do not rope within two minutes disqualified—Time, 22.5 seconds. First, Smith, Venice, Cal., and Bole Donnell of Venice, second, 34, Santos Bernal, Los Angeles, and Jack Hawn, Fresno, third, Chester A. Byers, Los Angeles, and Sam J. Garrett, Los Angeles. Half dozen teams disqualified.

Event No. 7, maverick race, J. E. Michael, Los Angeles.

Event No. 8, cowgirls' bucking horse contests, for championship of California, eliminations yesterday. Decision at close of contest.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

CAR SERVICE TO COUNTRY CLUB.

Altadena to Be Reached by Electric Line.

Beloved Pastor Dies While Seated at Desk.

Mrs. "Jack" Cudahy Denies Story of Separation.

(Office of The Times, No. 28 S. Fair Oaks Ave.)

PASADENA, March 11.—Contracts have been signed and all arrangements made, it was announced yesterday, for an extension of the Lake Avenue car line of the Pacific Electric Railway Company, to pass the new Altadena Country Club.

The terminal of the line is now at the intersection of Lake Avenue and Mendocino street. The intention is to extend the track east on Mendocino to Allen Avenue, a distance of a mile and a quarter.

According to present plans, the new stretch of track will be laid and ready for traffic within sixty days.

This will be one of the most important extensions of several that are planned, as it will give a large number of Altadenians, who now live a considerable distance from the car line facilities for reaching the city quickly.

The Altadena Country Club, thus will become the only country club in Southern California which may be approached by electric car.

This extension will be another link in what will, if carried farther, be a car line to the foot of the Mt. Wilson trail. Residents in that vicinity are endeavoring later to secure this further extension, not only to connect them with Pasadena by rail, but to make the trail easier of access.

REVEREND MINISTER DIES.

Rev. Edgar E. Clough, pastor of the Altadena Methodist Church, died suddenly of heart failure last Wednesday night. Death came as he was seated at his desk in his home. He had occupied the pulpit of that vicinity for three years and was much beloved by his congregation. His age was 72 years, and he had passed forty-three years in the ministry.

Dr. Clough was born in New York and became a pioneer in Wisconsin. He served as a chaplain in the United States army from August 16, 1862, to December 4, 1865, and was retired with the rank of captain. Later he removed to South Dakota, where he was a member of the Constitutional convention of that State. He was also for a time a regent of the University of South Dakota.

He came to California six years ago. He was a prominent member of the local post of the Grand Army of the Republic, and was an Odd Fellow and a Mason.

Dr. Clough leaves a widow, one son and four daughters. The son is Dr. Francis E. Clough of Los Angeles. The daughters, Mrs. J. H. Pearson of Pasadena, Mrs. William Hassenpflug of Cripple Creek, Colo., and the Misses Alice and Estelle Clough of Altadena.

Funeral services will be held at the church and while the time has not been definitely decided upon, it will probably be at 2 o'clock next Monday afternoon. Rev. E. D. Mather, superintendent of the Pasadena district of the Methodist church, will officiate. The services at the Corona lodge F. and A. M. and G. A. R. members will attend.

ELECTION DATE UNCERTAIN.

The work of making inventories of the holdings of the Pasadena water companies is drawing to a close, and definite information will soon be in the hands of Mayor Tamm and the Councilmen. Burdette Moody is the engineer who is conducting the investigation for the city.

"There is no possible chance of a water election until the middle of June," said Mayor Tamm last night, "and it may not be advisable to call it until next fall, when residents of the city shall have returned from their summer visits at the beaches. There is this chance that it will be put off until fall. But I rather think that it will not."

In ten days' time, it is announced, Moody will have completed the inventory of one of the companies, and those of the property of the others will follow soon after. There will then be much work for the city officials in reviewing the information thus compiled.

KNOWS THEIR WHEREABOUTS.

Mrs. "Jack" Cudahy, who is living in a bungalow at No. 588 Arroyo Crest Avenue, indignantly declared yesterday that she has not been tricked, and that her children have not been taken where she cannot find them.

"I know where all of them are," she said. "I am not going to name the place, because I do not wish to give the children any more notoriety than can be helped. It makes it hard for them."

"But I have been posted as to their whereabouts. As to why the children were taken, I do not know. I shall go to them as soon as the trial I am now waiting for is over."

PASSES BEYOND.

Many sorrowful friends yesterday attended the funeral of Mrs. Mary Plummer Beaumont of this city, who died at the California Hospital in Los Angeles last Wednesday, after a severe illness. While she had only lived in Pasadena a year, Mrs. Beaumont, besides a brother, C. H. Plummer, of Los Angeles, and two sisters, Mrs. J. E. Eggleston, of Franklin, Tenn., and Mrs. E. D. Randolph, a well-known writer and newspaper woman of this city.

CITY BRIEFS.

It was learned yesterday that during the thunderstorm last Wednesday Charles C. Ralph and F. Duffy, employees of the city light department were rendered unconscious by the lightning while working on the line on South Orange Grove Avenue. They soon recovered consciousness and continued their work.

Tacticians are out for a smother, strength of signatures that Council will feel impelled to grant the greater idea.

NEW SECRETARY.

R. L. Bisby, a local restaurant and amusement man was this morning elected secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, securing a majority vote on an informal ballot of the directors, who considered twenty names. After wards his election was made unanimous. The new secretary will receive a monthly salary of $200, which will include the services of a stenographer. Bisby has always been a Long Beach booster and his ability to get results in financial campaigns had much to do with his choice.

LONG BEACH, March 11.—Every effort is being made by the police department to apprehend the thugs who assaulted and robbed W. H. Alston in his theater Tuesday morning. Circulars were sent out over the State today giving a description of the two men, as given by their victim, who is still at a local hospital. Both men are described as Americans, one young, the other middle-aged. The older man is stockily built and smooth shaven, while his companion is slender and seems to be compulsive.

Two suspects were held at headquarters pending investigation and identification. While they answered in a measure the description and were arrested this morning, while en route to take a car for San Pedro for passing on steamer for San Francisco, they were released this afternoon. At the hospital it was said that the victim had failed in positive identification.

WANT HORSESHOE PIER.

The favor with which a proposition to build a crescent pier between Pine and Ocean avenues has been received has grown so that at a meeting this morning of thirty business men it was decided to start fifty cents out tomorrow to repair the present pier, to cost $400,000 and also a pier at Devil's Gate, as provided in the pending proceedings. It is expected to present a petition of some strength, of signatures that Council will feel impelled to grant the greater idea.

Covina Songsters to Be Heard Tonight.

Miss Kathryn E. Thomson, Saxophone soloist, who will play at the Union High School concert.

COVINA, March 11.—Covina is proud of two things—that the oranges do not get frost-bitten, and High School music. The first is probably one of the reasons for the second, as it takes money to maintain such a large and complete school system as this, orange community possesses, but the people are delighted with the results they are getting from music.

for their annual picnic, and were the guests of the Pike association. This afternoon at the Majestic pavilion they were entertained with a programme of music and speeches by M. E. Irvine, former Mayor of Colorado Springs; Judge R. L. Hubbard of Los Angeles, and S. F. Durfee of Long Beach.

BONDS CARRY.

Voters of the Long Beach school district went on record today as favoring all the school facilities needed and voted for a bond issue of $100,000 for three new schoolhouses in the eastern part of the city and for the additional ground and building to relieve the crowded condition of the district.

The vote was light and resulted for the bonds, 783; against the bonds, 289. A two-thirds vote was necessary for the success of the election. It is expected to have the new buildings ready for the fall semester of school.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Articles of incorporation of the Long Beach Steamship Company were filed yesterday. Seventy thousand dollars has been subscribed and as soon as $50,000 more of stock is sold work on the steamer to be built will be started. The company is capitalized for $500,000.

E. B. Dunham was arrested in San Pedro last night by Detective O'Rourke and brought to this city. Dunham is charged with passing bad checks on W. H. Crocker, a rooming-house proprietor, last November.

Jack Carville, a teamster, was arrested today on request of Riverside authorities. He is wanted for wife desertion.

The Edison company have submitted a proposition to the city to furnish electric power for the water pumping plants at 1 cent a kilowatt hour, effecting a considerable saving over the present method of steam power.

B. F. Freard, an old-time resident, died suddenly last night at the family home on Appleton street. He was a native of Indiana and 69 years of age. The remains will be taken to Santa Ana for burial.

At a meeting of Chapter A. A. P. E. O., which met at the home of Mrs. William Bradshaw, No. 1729 Bushwood avenue, the following officers were elected and installed: President, Mrs. William Bradshaw; Vice-President, Mrs. H. G. Tollerday; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Charles Bingham; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Viola Kohl; Treasurer, Mrs. M. G. Ritchie; Guide, Miss Ethel Stone; and Journalist, Mrs. Oida Byrne Manchester.

The three men implicated in the recent burglaries in this city, Harris, Dempsey and Wallace, and taken in custody Sunday evening and Monday morning, were brought from South Pasadena, where they were held, to Los Angeles, where they are being held before Judge Glover, who set their trial for March 25, and put them under $2000 bail each. They were then taken back to the Los Angeles jail.

Milady's Toilet Table

By Mme. D'AMILLE.

One great advantage of a dry shampoo is that it requires only a few minutes. It takes out all the dust, excess of oil and dandruff, and leaves the scalp clean, cool and refreshed.

The best shampoo powder is a mixture of a cupful of cornmeal and a small original package of thorax. Just sprinkle a little on the head and brush thoroughly through the hair.

To keep the skin smooth and soft and make the complexion natural and attractive, rub over the face, neck and arms each morning a lotion made by dissolving a small original package of mayonaise in a half pint of witch hazel. This is much better than powder, for it will not rub off and the complexion needs no retouching all day long.

There should be a jar of Mother's Balm in every home. It cures minor cuts, burns and scalds without leaving a scar. It is a splendid remedy for sores, skin eruptions, pimples, eczema and similar beauty destroyers.

LINEMAN KILLED BY HIGH-VOLTAGE WIRE.

WHITTIER, March 11.—Earl Malcho, aged 20 years, a lineman in the employ of the Home Telephone Company, met instant death about 11 o'clock yesterday morning while "shooting trouble" on the Central Oil Company's lease about two miles east of this city.

Malcho was sent out to the canyon alone this morning to repair some damage that had been done by the recent storm. A telephone wire was found broken and not having a handle handy he fastened his piers to a piece of wire and threw them over a power line carrying 2200 volts.

It appears that after throwing his line over the power-line Malcho did not notice that it was hot and that when he picked up his piers he received the 2200 volts through his body. Worked as he was on a side hill it seems that he had started to run down the hill away from the hot line and pitching headlong he rolled down the hill about forty feet, breaking his neck. There were no witnesses to the accident and the man had been dead for some time when discovered.

The body was found by Henry Siler, chief electrician for the oil company, who was also looking up trouble. Siler first noticed the telephone line, which had always hung under the power line, laying across his wires and upon investigation found the piers and a man's hat lying on the ground. Fully fifty feet down the hill he found the body of young Malcho.

Joseph E. Heath, the superintendent of the lease, was called and he immediately notified the telephone company. The body was taken to nearby's undertaking parlors and an inquest will be held Friday.

Earl Malcho, who was killed while "shooting trouble" on a power line.

Earl Malcho had been in the employ of the telephone company for about seven months. He had made his home here for many years, growing to young manhood in this city. He was a graduate of Whittier High School and later attended Whittier College. His home was with his parents on North Greenleaf Avenue.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Beginning next Tuesday, the South Pasadena Record Publishing Company will issue its paper twice a week, Wednesdays and Saturdays, according to an announcement made today by the president of the company, E. O. Wilkner.

Bruce Crow of Oneonta Park has announced himself as a candidate for the position of school trustee to be left vacant by Frank Cutton on the election to occur April 6. Mr. Crow, who is a lawyer, and has been a teacher in public schools, is a thoroughly well fitted for the position by those who persuaded him to run. The Oneonta people desire to have a representative on the board from their section of the city. Mr. Crow is secretary of the Oneonta Civic League, and has worked hard for the improvement of the city and the thoroughly progressive man. This makes a three men in the field for one vacancy.

F. Van Fatten, John W. Moore and Mr. Crow.

Owing to the absence of two of the Arroyo Park commission, the meeting called for tomorrow evening to discuss the proposed plans for the new parkway will be postponed until the latter part of the month, when the members are expected to be back.

SILENCED WITH SIX-INCH DIRK.

Laborite Who Talked Meets With Dire Vengeance.

Secretary of Brewery Union Wields the Knife.

Objections to Fine Cause Official Displeasure.

Censured and punished by his union for "having talked too much," Lawrence Bruner, a brewery worker employed by the Los Angeles Brewery Company and living at No. 814 Parker Drive, was attacked in front of the Labor Temple late last night, by officers of the organization, who attempted to silence him with a six-inch dirk knife.

Bruner was terribly cut on the face and arms and probably would have been killed by the infuriated unionites had not Patrolman McGowan appeared on the scene just in time to prevent a tragedy.

Although bleeding profusely from the great cuts inflicted by the union leaders, the victim retained consciousness until placed upon the operating table at the Receiving Hospital. With powerful stimulants administered by Dr. Carter the bleeding man revived sufficiently to tell the story of the outrage.

"I do not want to tell anything about the workings of the union as all members are sworn to strict secrecy," he pleaded when pressed to relate just what had happened at the Labor Temple.

"I had been subjected to a sort of a court-martial by the members of my union and at the meeting last night they had fined me for divulging something that they said had taken place behind the closed doors of the temple."

"When Joe Dornier, president of the Brewery Workers' Union and the man who sat in judgment upon me, came down stairs I began to protest that I had not been treated right and a minute later we were in a fight. At that time the unionists called upon Charles Trainer, the secretary of the union, to come to his aid and a moment later I was cut as you see me now."

Although the doctors were unable to predict the outcome of the wound, Dr. Carter gave it as his opinion that the victim would recover in a short time unless blood poisoning intervened.

Detectives Beaumont and Roberts were immediately detailed to make a full investigation and under orders of Capt. Flammer left in a police automobile to bring in the two men accused of the crime.

It is believed by the police that the cutting may have been the outcome of an internal union war and that Bruner may have brought his punishment upon himself by opposing the mandates of the union whose secret laws he had sworn to obey and that a general riot followed.

Bruner at first was advised to obtain a warrant for the arrest of his assailants but later when the detective department was informed that deadly weapons had been used in the affray, Capt. Flammer decided that the regular police procedure of arresting the accused men should be carried out and that no leniency should be shown to the men on account of their union affiliations.

Following the cutting, more than a score of laborites called at the hospital to ascertain the condition of Bruner and it is believed that an effort will be made to conceal the guilty men until morning when they will be able to produce bail.

CONDUCTOR IS KILLED.

Falls Under Rear Trucks of Freight Car as Forward Wheels Leave the Track—Met Instant Death.

Walter Taylor, 35 years old, a conductor employed on the Salt Lake line, was instantly killed late yesterday afternoon by jumping from a derailed car directly in front of a pair of trucks that had been dislodged by the accident.

At the time of the accident the conductor was in charge of string of lumber cars consigned to the Hammond Lumber Company, No. 2010 South Alameda street, and was about to shunt one of the cars into the spur track when the front trucks suddenly left the rails, causing the load of lumber to wobble in a threatening manner.

Apparently believing that the car was about to turn on its side, Taylor jumped from the top of the car and landed by the side of the track just as the rear truck took itself loose. The wheels of the truck passed over the middle of his body, causing instant death.

The coroner's office subsequently gave permission for the removal of the body to Orr & Booth's undertaking rooms, where it will be held pending an inquest.

ABSORBS OLD SKIN

(From The Feminine World.)

The quickest and surest way to make a good complexion out of a bad one is to actually remove the thin veil of faded or discolored outer skin. This can be done easily, safely and privately by a process of gentle absorption.

Get an ounce of pure mercolized wax from your druggist and apply at night like cold cream, washing it off in the morning. In a few days the wax will have absorbed the disfiguring cuticle, revealing the fresh young skin underneath; you will have a beautiful, clear, natural complexion. The face will look brilliantly attractive and youthful. This also effectively removes freckles, moth patches, liver spots, pimples, etc. Every woman should keep a little mercolized wax on hand, as this simple, old-fashioned remedy is the best complexion beautifier and preserver known.

Consumption Often Develops From Pneumonia

Consumption readily attacks those who have had Pneumonia. Many sufferers from Tuberculosis give a history of having had Pneumonia. The lungs thus weakened are more easily attacked by the germs that cause Consumption.

For all those with "weak lungs," especially those who have had Pneumonia, Eckman's Alternative is the appropriate remedy. Cures of Consumption are accomplished by Eckman's Alternative. But take it in time. There is wisdom in waiting until Tuberculosis is established. Health is never fully valued until sickness comes. A remarkable recovery.

235 North 41st St., Philadelphia, Pa. "Gentlemen: I wish I had known of Eckman's Alternative two years ago. Since taking it, following a bad attack of Pneumonia, I have gained twenty-eight pounds, and cannot but be very thankful to you and the Almighty God for the great blessing and change of health it has brought me." THOMAS REILLY.

Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Write to The Eckman Drug Co.'s stores and other leading drug stores. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratories, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.

PHYSICIAN IS GUILTY.

So Says Jury After Hearing How He Sold Morphine Unlawfully to Habitual Users.

Dr. H. S. Squire, a practicing physician with offices at No. 304 Lankershim building, who was recently charged by Inspector Boden of the State Board of Pharmacy with having prescribed morphine for habitual users of the drug, was found guilty late yesterday afternoon by a jury in Judge Williams' court at the University Station.

The case was fought bitterly throughout, as the physician asserted that he had acted in good faith in administering the narcotic to his patients. Evidence produced by Inspector Boden showed that the doctor had collected more than the usual fee and that he had failed to keep any record of the cases treated.

Dr. Squire will be sentenced by Judge Williams tomorrow morning unless his lawyers interpose an intervening process of law and take an appeal.

PARK IMPROVEMENTS.

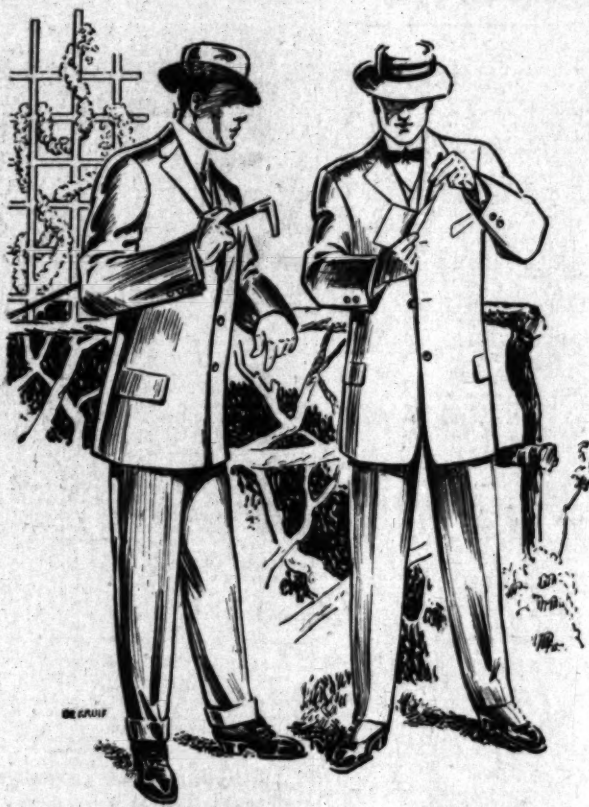

SAN BERNARDINO, March 14.—Contracts were signed today by H. C. Burnett, who has charge of outside operations for the Pacific Electric Company, and Herbert C. Snow, president and general manager of the Thompson-Snow Amusement Company, owners and operators of Luna Park, Los Angeles, by which there is assigned to the latter concern a long-term lease of Urbis Springs Park. Sixty-five acres are to be expended by the railroad corporation and the new lessees in making this famous pleasure ground one of the most attractive on the Coast and special facilities are to be afforded by the Pacific Electric Company to potential patrons from Redlands, Riverside, Colton, Highland, Corona, Bloomington and San Bernardino.

GLENDORA.

GLENDORA, March 14.—The city council has issued a call for the municipal election to be Monday, April 8. It being the first election to be held after the act of incorporation. A full Board of Trustees will have to be elected, and a City Clerk as well. In conformity with a resolution passed by the City Council, the County Assessor, Tax Collector and Treasurer will act for the city as provided by the code. Two full tickets have been put in the field for Councilmen by petition. On the ticket with the three Councilmen standing for re-election, namely: R. W. Hamlin, Mayor, Dr. W. R. McNair and J. D. Dyer, are Dr. W. S. Strange and O. J. Goff. The opposition ticket bears the names of J. J. West, Dr. A. E. Englehard, A. M. White, C. M. Wilhite and Boyd Comstock. The passage of an ordinance recently by the City Council prohibiting the liquor traffic practically removes that question as an issue.

ORANGE.

ORANGE, March 14.—Harry Hughes, returning home today after an absence of several days, found that his home had been burglarized and twenty-seven pieces of silver and a gold watch stolen.

TRADE PRINCES.

step in mercantile progress," said Letts. "I have been working for years with other merchants to bring about more friendly relations between merchants in Los Angeles and San Francisco, and now I see these efforts brought to a glorious fruition. This meeting marks a new era of merchandising and stamps the old system as a thing of the past. The merchants of today will not stand for things they stood for in the past, and I particularly refer to short measures and misrepresented merchandise. On behalf of the citizens and merchants of Los Angeles I welcome you brothers of the North to our great and glorious city."

F. M. Coulter delivered an address on "Fellowship," in which he emphasized the necessity of the merchants in the two biggest cities in the State organizing into a common body for the purpose of furthering their business conditions in California's mercantile world.

B. F. Schlesinger of the Emporium, who is president of the San Francisco Retailers' Association, spoke on "Dry Goods and Legislation." He urged the merchants to work for a permanent tariff on imported merchandise, so that the department store owner will not have to essay the role of a gambler every time the politicians at Washington tinker with the tariff laws. He spoke in the highest terms of the progress made by Los Angeles merchants in the past five years, and admitted that Los Angeles stores are as progressive and enterprising as San Francisco's.

"We are greatly pleased to meet with you," said he, "and also to have this opportunity to view your Fashion Show and to exchange ideas with our southern friends."

"Our Fashion Show was a great success, but was a little spoiled by the rain. On behalf of our Retailers' Association and the citizens of my city I cordially invite you and all your friends to visit our Fashion Show next year."

Association and the citizens of my city I cordially invite you and all your friends to visit our Fashion Show next year."

BOOST THE EXPOSITION.

R. B. Hale of Hale Brothers, one of the largest department stores in the West, was the next speaker. His subject was the "Panama-Pacific Exposition and Its Relation to Business." He said the citizens of San Francisco are expending every effort to make the big exposition the greatest ever held in the world, and he felt sure they would succeed. He touched on many subjects pertaining to the dry goods business, and advocated the adoption of uniform shopping hours. D. A. Hamburger of this city delivered an eloquent address on "Mercantile Unity," in which he made a plea for closer and more friendly business relations between the leading merchants of the State.

J. K. Adler of Newman & Levinson, San Francisco, spoke on "Department Store Advertising." R. M. Walker of the Fifth Street Store made a short talk on the "Modern Store's Standing in the Community."

As the guests of the luncheon seated themselves at the richly decorated banquet table a gigantic rose-covered shield occupied the center of the festive board unfolded, and the two halves, each lined with tiny soft-colored roses, lay back on the table, leaving exposed a miniature map of the administration building in San Francisco, from whose tower floated a pennant bearing in illuminated letters the motto: "San Francisco 1915."

From the banquet the visitors were taken on a tour of inspection of the shopping district and showrooms of the great mercantile houses in the business center.

FASHION SHOW AMAZES.

Surprise was depicted upon the visitors' faces as they gazed on the extravagant and resplendent merchandise displays in the big show windows. "It is wonderful," said S. Schwartz,

Correct Fashions —In— Men's Wear

—Styles, materials and colors especially suited to So. Calif.

Our "Men's Store" will prove as interesting a spot as any section of the house during this important Fashion Show. Our search for really new, "different" things for men was just as diligent as our search for the latest word in the feminine world—and that we have succeeded equally well you will agree, when once you step into this popular department. There are suits from the master designers of the country—hats and furnishings from the most renowned makers—there's something for every fancy—from the most conservative to the most fastidious taste. Indeed, this season, the slogan patrons have appreciatingly applied to our Men's Store—"The Best in the Best"—will be more than ever true.

We'd like you to see our line of suits at $25

Motherhood

The highest point of woman's happiness is reached only through motherhood, in the clasp of her child within her arms. Yet the mother-to-be is often fearful of nature's ordeal and shirks from the suffering incident to its consummation. But for nature's ills and discomforts nature provides remedies, and in Mother's Friend is to be found a medicine of great value to every expectant mother. It is an emulsion for external application, composed of ingredients which act with beneficial and soothing effect on those portions of the system involved. It is intended to prepare the system for the crisis, and thus relieve, in great part, the suffering through which the mother usually passes. The regular use of Mother's Friend will repay any mother in the comfort it affords before, and the helpful restoration to health and strength it brings about after baby comes.

Mother's Friend is for sale at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.
